PANAMA CANAL TITLE NOW WITHOUT FLAW

Decision of French Court Against Colombia Removes Last Legal Obstacle.

FORMAL TRANSFER TO BE MADE IN APRIL

First Civil Tribunal of Seine Says Colombia Has No Right To Enter Suit and Republic Must Pay All Costs.

Paris March 31.—The first civil tribunal of the Seine today decided the case of the republic of Colombia against the Panam Canal Company in favor of the defendnts.

The decision holds that the complaint of Colomia is not receivable and condemns the plaintiffs to pay the costs of the action. his decision has the effect of removingthe legal obstacles in the way of the trasfer of the canal commission from the company to the United States.

Full Sovereignty Given.

The ecision is a lengthy document, fully rviewing all the early circumstances of the concession and setting forth te various acts of the Colombian congres the treaties, etc., particularly articles20 and 22 of the treaty of March 20, 189 whereby the company acquired its righ.

"Thes articles," the decision says, "have he manifest purpose of assuring the ful exercise of sovereignty over the canal. t results from what is established befce this tribunal that Colombia is not in possession of the territory traversed b the canal. Coming before a French court in order to sustain its rights over th canal, Colombia tacitly admits its inabity itself to control the canal. It therefor follows naturally that it has lost sovereignty ver the territory traversed by the anal

"It also ppears that this sovereignty is maintained by the republic fo Panama, which is inactual possession of the authority and power of administration. Under such cirmstances it only remains for the Panamacompany to accept the actual situation of sthority and the facts relative to the teitory embraced by the concession. Therfore the action commenced by Combia is not receivable."

The decisionconcludes with the specific recital under e French code that none of the claims se up by Columbia are valid. that its requt to enjoin pending actions is not warrated; that its plea for costs against the cmpany is not justified and that the entil costs of the procedure are assessed agait the plaintiff.

Last Legl Obstacle Removed.

Washington March 31.—President Roosevelt a Attorney General Knox had a confence today subsequent to the receipt om the Associated Press of the infonation that the government of Colmbia had lost its suit in the French crts against the new Panama Canal ompany, and that now there was ndonger any reason for delay in the ansfer of the company's concessions td property to the United States.

The transfe of the property and concessions willbe ratified at the meeting. W. A ay and Charles W. Russell, the assitant attorneys general, who have gne to Paris to assist in the transfer f the property, will remain there unl the transfer shall have been complet.

The dissolutn of the Panama Canal Company so ar as the transfer of the property to its country is concerned probably willtake place in the latter part of Apr The payment of the $40,000,000 tohe company will be made about that tle. It is not likely that the payment f the $10,000,000 to the republic of Pama will be made prior to that of t canal company. It is the view of e president and attorney general that he payments should be practically courrent.

This is, the interpretation of the legislation being on the matter and of the ratified eement with the government of Pana.

HEAVY LOSSES ARE INFLICTED ON TIBETANS

Severe Fighting Reported Between the Native Forces and British Expedition.

TIBETAN CAMP TAKEN BY INVADING FORCE

British Suffered Great Hardships Owing to Intense Cold—Sometimes Maxims and Rifles Were Rendered Useless by the Cold.

Tuna, British India, March 31.—News has been received here of severe fighting, the Tibetans having attacked the British mission under Colonel Younghusband. There were two engagements and the Tibetans were repulsed with heavy losses. The British captured the Tibetan camp at Guru.

While the British advance has been practically unopposed, the expedition suffered great hardships from the intense cold, and it was sometime found impossible to use the maxim guns and rifles owing to the congealing of the oil. The country is of the bleakest, without a sign of vegetation, and the expedition had to face piercing winds and clouds of dust, while there was a heavy fall of snow last night.

At 8 o'clock this morning a flying column started to reconnoitre the Tibetan camp at Guru, whereupon a general from Lhassa with a quaint retinue came to interview Colonel Younghusband. The general asked the colonel to retire with his mission to Yatung for the purpose of carrying on negotiations, threatening an attack if the mission proceeded. Colonel Younghusband replied that negotiations had been proceeding fruitlessly for fifteen years and that retirement was now impossible.

The Tibetan general withdrew and Colonel Younghusband ordered his troops to endeavor to disperse the Tibetans, blocking the road, without firing upon them.

Fierce Attack by Tibetans.

For a time the tactics of the British were successful, but after a while the attitude of the Tibetan leaders convinced Colonel MacDonald of the necessity of disarming them. The Tibetans numbered about 1,500 and their resistance of the effort to disarm them led to a smart engagement. The situation for a few moments was critical, Colonel MacDonald and Colonel Younghusband being only a few yards from the advancing Tibetans. Revolvers and bayonets were used and then a rifle fire was resorted to at which the Tibetans fled, but not before several casualties resulted in the British ranks.

The correspondent of The Daily Mail with the mission was severely wounded.

The Tibetans lost heavily owing to the inferiority of their weapons, which were matchlock rifles, but they displayed the greatest courage, many of them coming on after they had been seriously wounded. After the action there were heaps of dead and a long trail of dead and wounded extended to the rear.

After a short halt the advance continued. Nearing the Tibetan camp at Guru, a second action took place, in which the artillery played the largest part.

Finally the Tibetans retreated over the hills with the exception of about sixty, who obstinately held the village which was finally taken by a mounted bayonet charge. The Tibetan losses are believed to be over 400, while the British casualties are about a dozen.

The British force returned to Tuna this evening and stated that rifles bearing the Russian imperial stamp and Russian ammunition were found on the wounded Tibetan officers.

TO SAVE SWAYNE GILLETT WORKS

Congressman Parker Has No Eulogy for Florida Judge.

Washington, March 31.—An additional minority report on the Swayne impeachment proceedings has been prepared by Representative Parker, of New Jersey, and will be filed with the report of Representative Gillett, of California.

While opposing impeachment, Mr. Parker takes a somewhat different view than does Mr. Gillett. His report is very brief and in opposing impeachment he makes no eulogistic comments on the official character of Judge Swayne.

Mr. Gillett has been withholding his report in order that each member of the committee who did not sign the majority report might have an opportunity to sign the minority. Seven members so far have signed this report. Messrs. Thomas of Iowa and Warner of Illinois have not yet signed any report.

Mr. Gillett has been sounding the sentiment on the republican side of the house, and he believes that he can secure enough votes to defeat the impeachment resolution reported from the judiciary committee.

The question is to be taken up, according to the present programme, as soon as appropriation bills are out of the way.

EVEN TO THE LAST PENNY!

VIRGINIA LASSIES FIGHT FOR FAVORED LOVER'S KISS

DANVILLE, VA., March 31.—(Special.)—Misses Carrie Hughes and Mamie Wilson, both 17 years of age, engaged in a terrific fight last night over the affections of Henry Smithson, a young man who is alleged to have been paying court to both of them. Miss Wilson followed the young man to the home of her rival, peeped through the shutters of the window and saw her in the young man's arms. She held her passion in check until the young man was ready to take his leave, when she saw the other girl kiss him goodby on the steps.

Then, from the shadow around the corner, there was launched upon the unsuspecting girl and her satisfied companion an avalanche of petticoats. Miss Hughes jerked from the arms of her astonished companion and collapsed in a miserable heap on the ground. Then the avalanche jumped on her and beat her. Miss Hughes proceeded to fight a little on her own account as soon as she could get her wits about her and she claims that all the hair that was left in the yard was not from her own head.

STRAY DOGS TO BE FOOD FOR HUNGRY IGORROTTES

ST. LOUIS, March 31.—Beginning on April Fool's day, all stray dogs in St. Louis will be served daily to members of the Igorrote and other tribes of Filipinos at the world's fair. Arrangements to this effect were completed at the office of the dog pound today. The Igorrotes, who at home are head hunters, are very fond of dog meat and today threatened to strike unless served with their favorite flesh. Accordingly, stray dogs, instead of suffering death by asphyxiation, will be slaughtered, dressed and roasted, fried, boiled, grilled or fricassed to suit the peculiar taste of the Igorrotes. On their arrival at St. Louis recently the three hundred Filipinos suffered from pneumonia. After a native council had been held it was decided by the Filipinos that the absence from their daily diet of dog meat was the cause of their suffering from pneumonia.

One of those suffering with pneumonia, by the aid of friends, managed to secure a piece of broiled dog steak. He recovered. This coincidence, the Igorrotes called an example of cause and effect. They appealed to M. R. Healy, who acts as their butler. Mr. Healy applied to the dog pound office and secured permission to take all the stray dogs he wanted for the table of the Filipinos. The skins of the dogs may be used by the Igorrotes for their abbreviated costumes, as they refuse to dress in American conventional style.

EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH WASHES AGED MEN'S FEET

VIENNA, March 31.—Emperor Francis Joseph this morning observed the ancient ceremony of washing the feet of twelve old men in the crystal hall of the Hofburg. The hall was filled with distinguished personages including members of the diplomatic corps, the cabinet ministers, military officials and court functionaries.

The emperor, who was in excellent health, asisted by eight arch dukes, personally waiting on the old men, placing before them food and drink, which, however, they did not consume then, the refreshments being immediately removed and later sent to their homes. The ceremony concluded with the emperor hanging around the neck of each of the old men a silk purse containing the traditional thirty pieces of silver.

The United States was represented at the ceremony by Ambassador Storer and Mrs. Storer, Captain F. W. Gries, the military attache; Secretary Hale and Mrs. Hale; Second Secretary R. Rives and Miss Diehl.

MOUNTAIN SINKS IN EARTH AND SMALL LAKE APPEARS

CARIBOU, MAINE, March 31.—Woodsmen who have just returned here bring news that Bald mountain, a small steep hill in the Tiboque valley, only a few miles from the New Brunswick line, has disappeared. In its place a small lake now exists. It is believed the mountain dropped out of sight during the earthquake of March 21 and that the tremor that shook the New England really had its birth in Maine woods. Bald mountain was an odd-shaped cone with extremely steep sides and was seldom explored. The general belief is that it was the crater of an extinct volcano. Around the base of the mountain small hot springs once existed and the rock formation in the neighborhood bears evidence of volcanic origin.

JAPS KILLED IN BATTLES ALONG YALU

Warning to Powers by Bourse Gazette To Strengthen Pressure at Pekin.

RUSSIA CANNOT FOREVER PLAY WATCHDOG IN EAST

Gazette Says Chinese Will Make Bold Move When Powers Least Expect Such Action—Urges Absolute Chinese Neutrality.

LONDON, April 1.—The correspondent of The Daily Telegraph at Seoul reports that there is continuous skirmishing between Ping Yang and Wiju, and that many Japanese have been killed.

The correspondent adds that a Korean spy at Ping Yang has been shot by the Japanese.

St. Petersburg, March 31.—In connection with the activity of the Chinese along the Shan-Hai Kwan railroad The Bourse Gazette warns the powers of the unreliability of Chinese neutrality and says it believes they are making a serious mistake, declaring that the celestials are going to astonish the world when the world least expects it.

The Gazette further declares it to be the duty of the powers to take collective action to strengthen the pressure at Pekin in order to compel the non-participation of China in the war, and concludes:

"Russia cannot forever play the solitary watch dog of civilization in the Far East."

The Novoe Vremya advises the government to protest against the violation of the Geneva convention in the hoisting of Red Cross flags to protect the Japanese troops in the fight at Chong Ju.

Russ Discovers Jap Ruse.

The Russ thinks Marine Minister Yamamoto's speech Tuesday last before the Japanese parliament about the difficulties encountered at Port Arthur was designed to throw the Russians off their guard and believes the Japanese will do everything in their power to take Port Arthur, because if they fail the Japanese will be reduced solely to a land campaign in Korea.

Prize Money Divided.

For sinking Japanese merchantmen in Sungari straits at the opening of the war $75,000 has been distributed in prize money to the crews of the four cruisers of the Vladivostok squadron.

The Invalid Russ, the army organ, concludes from General Mishchenko's reports that the Japanese are continuing their invasion and are gradually advancing on their way to Wiju, their advance guard being at Kah-San and their outposts 10 miles further north. The paper declines to predict the future phases of the Japanese advances upon the Yalu.

SINKING OF HANYEI MARU DEEPLY RESENTED BY JAPS

Tokio, March 31.—9. p. m.—The action of Russian warships in sinking the Japanese coasting steamer Hanyei Maru last Saturday is deeply resented by the Japanese.

In official circles the attack upon and the sinking of this vessel near Taichin island is pronounced to be a clear violation of the neutrality of China, besides being an act of wantonness against a defenseless craft. The sinking of the Japanese steamer Nakonamara Maru by the Russian Vladivistok squadron near the Tsugaru straits is recalled.

The Hanyei Maru was an old steamer of 64 tons, and had been chartered by some correspondents of a Japanese newspaper.

NO CHANCE FOR POWERS TO STOP WAR AT PRESENT

Washington, March 31.—Careful inquiry at the several ambassies and legations interested in the Russo-Japanese situation confirms the conviction which is general among state department officials that present intervention by the powers is out of the question. As a European ambassador expressed today:

"Both belligerents have set their jaws and the powers can only stand aside and watch the fighting.

"It may be that when Russia and Japan have tasted more deeply of the real horrors of war that they will be inclined to listen to mediation, but my advices from St. Petersburg and Tokio show no indication of this yet."

CANTEENS LOST TO STATE HOMES

Kentucky Member Against Liquor Legislation.

California State Home Attacked by Congressman Bell, of That State, for Running Canteen and Paying Inmates in Canteen Checks.

Washington, March 31.—Consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill was concluded in the house today and the bill was about to be passed, when Mr. Sulzer forced a roll call on a motion to recommit the bill with instructions to strike out the paragraph appropriating $136,000 for rental of the New York customs house. The vote showed a quorum was not present and so an adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

The right of boards of directors of state homes for disabled volunteer soldiers to retain certain portions of pension money received by the inmates was discussed at length. Mr. Bell, of California, assailed his own state for permitting a canteen to be established in the California state home and charged that the old soldiers were allowed to draw their pension money from the home in most instances, only through canteen checks. After extended debate an amendment by Mr. Bell to correct the evils complained of was adopted.

Mr. Sherley, democrat, of Kentucky, offered an amendment to Mr. Bell's amendment striking out the anti-canteen feature. He emphatically declared against "that species of paternalism which undertakes to legislate the morals of people." He was, he said, opposed to any anti-canteen law. The Sherley amendment was voted down.

The house adjourned until tomorrow.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU. Every Reader of The Constitution May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

I cheerfully recommend and endorse the Great Remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, for kidney trouble and bad liver. I have used it and derived great benefit from it. I believe it has cured me entirely of kidney and liver trouble, from which I suffered terribly.

Most gratefully yours,
A. R. Reynolds, Chief of Police,
Columbus, Ga.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering and fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; make your head ache and back ache, cause indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, make you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

DISCUSS CANAL JENNINGS' IDEA

Governor of Florida Invites Executives To Meet at Tampa.

Tampa, Fla., March 31.—Governor Jennings today stated that he would write the governors and boards of trade of the southern states to send delegates to a convention to be held at Tampa during the spring festival, which begins May 2, for the purpose of discussing the Panama canal project and its advantages to the southern states and how best to develop them. The plan of holding this convention was suggested by the Tampa board of trade. Manager Brown, of the Tampa Bay hotel, volunteers to entertain as his guest every governor, United States senator, and representative in congress who may attend.

Governor Jennings will extend the invitation as soon as the Tampa board of trade completes its arrangement for entertaining the delegates.

BINGHAM LECTURES TONIGHT.

Popular Entertainer Will Appear at the Grand Before Big Audience.

Ralph Bingham will arrive in the city this afternoon, coming from Scottsville, Ky., where he lectured last night, and will be the attraction at the Grand this evening as the tenth number of the star course given by the Atlanta Lecture Association this year.

Mr. Bingham's entertainment is not a lecture, but a promiscuous programme of music, both vocal and instrumental, and humorous stories, hence he will take no special subject. With this it is as easy for him to hold an audience an hour and a half as it is for Irving, Frances Wilson or any of the other favorites. As a monologist he has no equal on this side of the Atlantic, at least, and as a musician he has very few peers. Ysaye himself can scarcely do more with the violin than Bingham, and the piano takes on new charms as he fingers the keys.

From all indications, the largest audience of the season will greet Mr. Bingham this evening at the Grand. The musical programme will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and the entertainment at 8:30.

BROWN STRUCK WITH STICK.

Sanitary Inspector Girardeau Hits Man with Walking Stick.
Brown Arrested.

R. C. Brown, a white man, was struck on the head with a walking stick yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock in front of the Kiser building on South Pryor street by Sanitary Inspector Girardeau, who had arrested Brown. The blow made a gash on Brown's head, from which the blood flowed. Brown was taken to the police station and was later released on a bond collateral of $50.75.

Inspector Girardeau recently made a case against Brown, charge of failing to abate a nuisance, and says that he had given Brown copies of charges citing him to appear in police court, and Brown failed to appear in court, and Judge Broyles instructed Girardeau to arrest him. The inspector saw Brown yesterday afternoon in front of the Kiser building and told him he would have to arrest him.

Brown is said to have declared that he would not go with Girardeau, but would go with a regular policeman, applying, it is stated, an insulting remark to the inspector. At this Girardeau struck Brown a heavy blow on the head with his stick, after which he called the patrol wagon and sent him to the police station. A considerable crowd gathered about the scene.

DEAF MUTES AT FUNERAL.

Rev. O. Whildon, General Missionary to Deaf Mutes in the South, Conducted Services.

A gathering of deaf mutes assembled in the chapel of Barclay & Brandon yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to attend the funeral services of Marion D. Baker, the two-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dunlap Baker, both of whom are deaf mutes.

The little girl died February 27, but the funeral services were delayed for over a month, as the parents at first intended to take the body to another city for funeral services and interment. It was finally decided to inter the body in Atlanta.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. O. Whildon, general missionary to deaf mutes of the south, and all the ceremonies were conducted by signs, which were readily understood by those present. The interment was at Oakland.

OFFICER WRECKS FEDERAL TRUST

Cleveland and Boston Companies Close Down.

Claimed That Depositors of Both Concerns Will Be Fully Protected—Run on Cleveland Bank Had Slight Effect.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 31.—The Federal Trust Company today made an assignment to the Guardian Trust Company.

The action is stated to have been taken as a result of the disappearance of a prominent official of the Federal Trust Company. Reports are in circulation that a shortage has been found in the funds of the concern.

While no statement has been filed as yet by the Federal company, it is understood it will turn over about $1,000,000 in deposits to the assignee.

Its total assets will be about $3,000,000. The Federal Trust Company has a capital stock of $1,500,000. It has a surplus fund of $50,000 and about $140,000 undivided profits. According to its last report it had $2,188,362 in loans and discounts, $45,300 real estate loans, owned $729,000 stocks, bonds and mortgages. Its last statement showed individual deposits of $1,593,328, but officials state the deposits were about $1,000,000 at the close of business last night.

An agreement was practically reached between the directors of the Federal Trust Company and the Guardian Trust Company several days ago, providing for the merging of the two concerns. The disappearance of the official of the Federal company, however, precipitated matters and the directors decided that an assignment would probably avoid a run on the bank and protect all interests.

Boston Union Trust Closes.

Boston, March 31.—The Union Trust Company has closed its doors. The company was incorporated in 1888 with a capital of $100,000. The president is former Congressman William E. Barrett. Mr. Barrett is also a well known Boston publisher. Frederick B. Roberts is treasurer, and the directors are William E Barrett, Charles H. Adams, C. F. Donnelly, James W. Dumphy, G. Edward Smith and Galen E. Stone.

The liabilities of the company are placed at $1,600,000, with nominal assets of about the same amount. The difficulties of the concern are attributed to heavy withdrawals by depositors and the inability of the management to realize quickly on securities in order to provide for the unusual demands. At the office of the Savings bank commissioners, it was stated that the company had been temporarily enjoined by the supreme court and that the application for a permanent injunction was returnable tomorrow. The court will be asked to appoint a receiver.

The directors state no opposition will be made to the receivership and the company will go out of business.

They state positively that depositors will lose nothing.

THE PASSING THRONG.

Here is a story of how the late Captain W. S. Everett once caught General Longstreet violating his own orders about foraging while the general's corps was doing some hard fighting around Knoxville, Tenn. Captain Everett and some soldiers went out to steal sheep, contrary to General Longstreet's orders, and when they reached the flock they found the general had beaten them there and was engaged in a fierce struggle with a big ram.

The incident was related yesterday among a group of veterans who were discussing the tragic death of their former comrade, Captain Everett, the twentieth member of Atlanta camp No. 159, to die since last October. The anecdote was related in the following words:

"I got the story from the lamented Major A. Leyden, who was Captain Everett's commander during the war. Major Layden commanded the Ninth Georgia battalion, and his favorite captain of artillery was Captain W. S. Everett and there was no more gallant and skilful artillerist and better gunner than this intrepid soldier. On the battle field he was a master in the splendid handling of heavy cannon, particularly 'Old Black Bess,' a pet cannon in Leyden's battalion, and Captain Everett engaged in many an artillery duel in 1861-65.

"But to the story as I got it from Major Leyden:

"In September, 1863, Leyden's battalion was ordered from Virginia to join General Longstreet's corps at Ringgold, Ga., as it was known Longstreet would join General Bragg at Chickamauga in a fierce battle with Generals Rosecrans and Thomas. They went and materially aided in breaking Thomas' line at Snodgrass Hill. From there they went to Knoxville, fighting General Burnside's artillery all the way to Knoxville.

"When General Longstreet began the bombardment of Fort Saunders at Knoxville he had prior thereto issued strict orders against foraging on private property, and Leyden's battalion had scrupulously observed the order, but the bombardment of Fort Saunders was a long job, and rations ran out, and the men were hungry, very hungry.

"Captain Everett told Major Leyden he was starving and must have some 'grub,' and said he had seen a fine flock of sheep on a distant hill, and, despite Longstreet's order, permission was given to pick a stray sheep.

"So away Captain Everett and a few soldiers went, and as they got near a thicket where the sheep were grazing they heard a tremendous struggle as of two mighty wrestlers or athletes in deadly combat. The wrestlers would blow and butt the ground 'ker-bip,' rise and renew the fierce struggle.

"After a while Captain Everett peeped up so as to get a good view, and there was General Longstreet grappling in a hand-to-hand contest with an immense ram. The general had hold of the large horns and sought to twist his neck and throw the big ram, as Longstreet was a powerful athlete. General Longstreet was nearly winded and his general's uniform and shoulder straps were torn and gave evidence of the ram's strength.

"Captain Everett started to his commander's assistance, but Longstreet flung the ram and put his foot on his neck, and between labored breaths said:

"'Look here, captain, if you will say nothing about this violation of my order, I won't; but I was hungry for some mutton.'

"Captain Everett laughed heartily and the next day at General Longstreet's headquarters and in Major Leyden's tent, where Captain Everett dined, there was a dish of succulent mutton, but it wasn't from that old ram.

"Major Leyden often spoke of Captain Everett's accuracy and intrepidity in handling his batteries against heavier guns on the other side."

FRONT CHANGED SAYS M'CREARY

Kentucky Senator Attacks Republican Methods.

Claims Early Adjournment of Congress Planned in Order To Prevent Passage of Legislation Not Desired by Republican Members.

Washington, March 31.—The attention of the senate was divided today between the bill for the repeal of the desert land, the timber and stone and the homestead commutation laws and the postoffice appropriation bill.

The repeal bill was taken up only for the purpose of discussion, and Mr. Clark, of Wyoming, was the principal speaker. He contested the position taken by Mr. Gibson, that there have been great frauds in the administration of the land laws of the west. He declared that there is a lobby in Washington in the interest of the repeal bill, and engaged in a sharp colloquy with Mr. Patterson during which each characterized the statement of the other as untrue.

The general debate on the postoffice bill was confined largely to a speech by Mr. McCreary and interruptions by republican senators. Mr. McCreary charged in the main that the policy of an early adjournment of congress had been adopted in order to avoid legislation not desired by the republican leaders.

Mr. McCreary said conditions in the postoffice department warranted an investigation.

"It has been a strange spectacle," said Mr. McCreary, "when members of the house of representatives, who have demanded an investigation and reform, and have been compelled to abandon that request and themselves have had to go before an investigating committee."

Republican Pledges Broken.

The policy of the republican party in regard to immigration and statehood for Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma was severely criticised by Mr. McCreary, who said republican pledges had been broken. The reasons, said Mr. McCreary, are that the republicans fear they will not get the votes of the new states if they are admitted.

Mr. McCreary declared that there had been more wasteful extravagance during the past two administrations, and especially under the present administration than ever before.

Mr. Dolliver spoke of the charges of corruption which the democrats were making. All these, he said, had been founded on Mr. Bristow's report, and this he regarded as a great tribute to the integrity of the department. He did not consider it one of the functions of congress to take charge of the interior affairs of the department.

Mr. Money said that the heading of the report "Charges Concerning Members of Congress," was a distinct charge, and asked Dolliver who was responsible for it. Mr. Money said that he had made every effort at the department to ascertain the responsibility for the headline.

Mr. Dolliver replied that he could not give the information desired, but said he had been informed that the heading had been traced to a proof reader in the government printing office.

Mr. Money thought it was absurd to charge the line to a printer, and traced all the charges in the public press to this headline. He did not consider it malicious he said, but he did consider that it was coolly mendacious, and that it had been used for the purpose of diverting attention from the charges against the department to congress.

The senate adjourned until tomorrow.

GIRLS MANGLED BY EXPLOSION

Building Wrecked and Fired by Squib.

Scranton, Pa., March 31.—Six persons are known to have been killed and five fatally injured by an explosion in the factory of the Dickson Squib Company at Priceburg, near here, today. The dead:

LIZZIE BRAY, Priceburg.
LILLIAN MAHAN, Priceburg.

LIZZIE MATTHEWS, Olyphant.
GEORGE CALLAHAN, Priceburg.
TERESA CALLAHAN, Priceburg.

The fatally injured are Marie Callahan, Martha Hay Brown, Cassie Foultz, Mettie Hevron and Oscar Ayser.

Twenty Girls in Factory.

Twenty girls were employed in the factory. What caused the explosion is not known, but it is said that one of the girls threw a squib into a stove and that the force of the explosion was so great that it wrecked the building and set it on fire. The squibs are used in coal mining.

The Dickson Squib Company occupied only the first floor of the structure, the Callahan family having rooms on the second floor. It was here that the two Callahan children lost their lives. Thomas Callahan, the father, was at work, and Mrs. Callahan had just left the room when the explosion occurred. The children, aged 3 years and 6 months respectively, were playing on the floor. Both were instantly killed.

The building caught fire and the flames communicated to the two joining buildings, one occupied as a hotel and the other as a butcher shop. Both were destroyed.

All of the bodies have been taken from the debris. The bodies of the dead employees were so badly burned that it was with great difficulty that they could be recognized.

SEALED LETTER NOW EXCLUDED

Bryan Takes Appeal to Supreme Court

Letter Which Gives $50,000 from Bennett Estate Not Admitted on Appeal from Action of Court of Probate.

New Haven, Conn., March 31.—A finding that the sealed letter by which Pilo S. Bennett expressed a wish that $50,000 should be given to William J. Bryan and his family was not a part of the last will of Mr. Bennett, was returned by the jury today in the superior court in the trial of Mr. Bryan's appeal from the decision of the probate court.

This finding, which upholds the decision of the probate court, was given in accordance with instructions to the jury from Judge Gager, who presided at the superior court trial. Judge Gager's ruling on question which has never before come directly before the courts of Connecticut decided that the sealed letter could not be admitted as evidence in the trial.

As Mr. Bryan's appeal was based on the exclusion of this letter as a part of the will in the probate court, the decision of Judge Gager that it could not be admitted as evidence practically concluded the proceedings in the superior court and the jury was accordingly directed to bring in a verdict against Mr. Bryan. An appeal will be taken to the supreme court by Mr. Bryan's counsel on the ground that the letter should be admitted as a part of an established trust.

An interesting feature of the day's proceedings was a satement which Mr. Bryan made in court that he was willing to give a bond that in no case would the money mentioned in the sealed letter go to himself or family without Mrs. Bennett's consent. This statement was made in discussing the question of trying the Bennett appeal case.

Might Withdraw Appeal.

Mr. Goddard said that undue influence is alleged in the Bennett appeal, and if the "sealed letter" were excluded from the will he might advise the withdrawal of the Bennett appeal. Mr. Bryan here said that he would not insist upon this trial. He continued:

"This is the only case in which I feel a personal interest. I say now as I said in the court below, that no money will be used personally by me without the consent of Mrs. Bennett.

"I am willing to give bonds," he went on, "that no member of my family will receive one cent of that $50,000 without the consent of Mrs. Bennett."

The Bennett appeal case was dismissed.

Judge Gager, in his decision, held that the letter, while testamentary in character was not attested and witnessed as required by law; that it was not described in the will with sufficient certainty, there being nothing to show that it was the letter the testator had in mind when he made the will. Quoting the directions upon the letter, and in the letter itself that the letter was to be read only by Mrs. Bennett and Mr. Bryan, Judge Gager says:

"No language could be more conclusive upon the question that Mr. Bennett himself did not treat this letter as a part of a technical will or as testamentary in the legal sense, but only as a letter of private instruction to Mrs. Bennett."

THE THEATERS.

For the first time in many months the doors of the Bijou theater will be closed tonight. Throughout the entire Bijou circuit every theater will be closed tonight—Good Friday.

The engagement will be resumed at the matinee tomorrow afternoon and the performance tomorrow night will bring to a close not only this engagement, but the farewell visit of the Wells-Dunne-Harlan company at the Bijou this season.

It is understood that something quite unusual will take place at the closing performance Saturday night and the many friends and admirers of the organization will be on hand to say goodby.

Tell Me Who Needs Help
Just a Postal. That is all.

No money is wanted—not from you—nor from him. I ask only a postal card, and I ask it as an act of humanity.

I will tell him my box I will arrange with a druggist near by that he may take six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. He may take it a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost $5.00. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself. And the check one's mere word shall decide it.

Could I meet you—for ten minutes—I would forever convince you that I have what these sick ones need. More than that, they must have it, for most of them can never get well without it.

But I can meet only a few so I take this means to convince you. Let you take it a month to prove what it can do; and you can pay, or I'll pay, just as you decide.

I have found the cure at last. In the past 12 years I have furnished my Restorative to hundreds of thousands on these terms, and 39 out of each 40 have paid—and paid gladly—because they were cured. I will pay just as willingly if you say I have failed.

My Restorative is the result of my lifetime's work in learning how to strengthen the inside nerves.

I don't doctor the organs, but I bring back the nerve power by which one operates every vital organ. I give the weak organ power to do its duty, as you could give a weak engine more steam.

My way never fails me when a cause—like cancer—makes a cure impossible. No case is too difficult, for I have watched the remedy succeed in the most desperate cases that physicians ever meet.

You know some sick man who would be well with my help. Won't you let me furnish the help?

CARACAS PAPER ATTACKED BOWEN

Minister Immediately Called on President Castro for Action.

Washington, March 31.—Secretary Hay has received a personal note from Herbert W. Bowen, the American minister at Caracas, briefly recounting a recent experience he has had with President Castro.

It appears that a Caracas newspaper published in an apparently official form the charge that Mr. Bowen had pocketed several hundred thousand dollars of Venezuela's money. Mr. Bowen promptly sent a personal note to protest to President Castro, calling on him to take action against the paper.

Mr. Bowen refused to dignify the matter by an official protest. His action in bringing it so vigorously to the attention of President Castro is heartily approved by the officials here and Mr. Bowen will be so advised.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA.

Decisions rendered Thursday, March 31, 1904.

448. Greene v. Barron et al. Action on bond. Before Judge Hodnett. City court of Carrollton.

Fish, P. J.—1. When in an action on a bond against the principal and his sureties the petition was dismissed on joint demurrer of all the defendants, the sureties were necessary parties defendant to a bill of exceptions sued out by the plaintiff, alleging error upon the judgment sustaining such demurrer and dismissing the petition. Western Union Telegraph Company v. Griffith, 111 Ga. 551, 556-7, and cases cited.

2. Where persons who are essential parties defendant to a bill of exceptions are neither named nor designated therein as such, and the only attempt to do so is by using with reference to them in abbreviation "et al," following the name of one who is a proper defendant in error, a motion to dismiss the writ of error for want of necessary parties thereto will be sustained. Farr v. Farr, 113 Ga. 577.

3. An acknowledgment of service upon a bill of exceptions does not relate to or bind any person not actually named or sufficiently designated therein as a defendant in error when the acknowledgment is entered. Orr v. Webb, 112 Ga. 806; Sears v. Jeffords, decided on yesterday.

Writ of error dismissed.

J. M. & H. J. McBride, for plaintiff.

Brown & Roop, Lloyd Thomas and Head & Head, for defendants.

449. DuVall v. Norris et al. Action for money had and received. Before Judge Gary. Richmond superior court.

Cobb, J.—Voluntary payments, though illegally demanded, can not be recovered back. But a payment made for the purpose of recovering possession of personal property wrongfully detained is not voluntary, and may be recovered back. Especially is this true when the owner does not know and cannot ascertain who has possession of the property, but makes the payment to a third person, to be used in securing the release of the goods.

Judgment reversed.

J. J. Zachry, for plaintiff.

C. Henry Cohen, for defendants.

450. Owens v. Atlanta Trust and Banking Company. Levy and claim. Before Judge Reid. City court of Atlanta.

Simmons, C. J.—1. In attachment proceedings against a non-resident who is not served, the only lien created or foreclosed is that arising by virtue of the seizure of the property levied on.

2. If the plaintiff has a lien on said property by virtue of a contract or under its charter and by-laws, such lien cannot be foreclosed by judicial proceedings, unless the defendant is duly served by an officer or by publication.

3. In the present case the only lien foreclosed was that created by the attachment, which was inferior to the title asserted by the claimant holding under a purchase older than the attachment; and a verdict finding the property subject was contrary to law.

Judgment reversed.

William D. Thomas, for plaintiff in error.

Dorsey, Brewster & Howell, contra.

451. Brown v. Rawlings. Before Judge Holden. Washington superior court.

Fish, P. J.—1. Where one who was the sole devisee under a will and executor thereof undertook to convey, with covenant of warranty, realty of which his testatrix died seized and possessed, designating himself as grantor and executing the deed in his own name, such conveyance was properly admitted in evidence as his personal deed, notwithstanding the recital therein that "This sale is made by me to pay the indebtedness of (the testatrix), I being executor of the will, and to clear the estate of debts it is necessary to make this sale."

2. Where in a claim case the claimant relied upon such a conveyance, the duly probated will of the testatrix was admissible in evidence to show that the grantor in the deed was the executor and sole devisee. Evidence that he had paid all the debts of the testatrix from the proceeds of such sale was also admissible. While, as an abstract proposition, this evidence was admissible, its introduction in the present case simply established a fact which neither party to the issue on trial was in a position to dispute.

3. There was evidence sufficient to authorize a finding that the security deed from the defendant to the plaintiff was made as a part of an usurious contract, and was therefore void.

Judgment affirmed.

Evans & Evans, for plaintiff.

Rawlings & Howard and Thomas W. Hardwick, contra.

452. Riddle v. Sheppard. Before Judge Evans. Washington superior court.

Cobb, J.—1. The possession which the civil code, section 3248, requires processioners to respect is a possession existing at the time the lines are marked.

2. There was evidence to authorize the judge to submit to the jury the question whether the protestant had not abandoned possession of the land in controversy before the institution by him of proceedings for the appointment of processioners.

3. An assignment of error, that a specified portion of a charge is erroneous because "misleading," without stating in what way it was calculated to mislead the jury, is too general to be considered.

4. Mere naked possession, with no intention of asserting ownership, is not such actual possession under a claim of right as is contemplated by the civil code, section 3248.

5. The evidence, though conflicting, was sufficient to authorize the verdict, and there was no error requiring the granting of a new trial.

Judgment affirmed.

E. W. Jordan, for plaintiff.

Rawlings & Howard, for defendant.

453. Vizard v. Moody. Before Judge Parker. Glynn superior court.

Candler, J.—1. Where the defendant in an action of ejectment admits in his plea the execution by him of an instrument which forms a part of the plaintiff's abstract of title, it is not a good objection to the admission of the instrument in evidence that its execution has not been proved. The same principle governs as to proof of the execution of a deed, when the maker of the deed appears in court and testifies that he signed the instrument and that the deed is his.

2. In this state a married woman may engage in business as the partner of her husband, and may pledge her separate property for the payment of the partnership debts.

3. A married woman who buys property which is encumbered may assume the payment of the encumbrance in order to secure a clear title to the property, and she will be bound by such an assumption of the lien on the property.

4. A deed to lands located in Georgia was executed in Mississippi in January, 1900, but was attested by only one witness. In February, 1901, the maker acknowledged the deed in Mississippi before two witnesses, one of whom was a notary public who attached his seal to his attestation. Held, that the instrument was entitled to record in Georgia, and was admissible in evidence in a trial involving title to the land conveyed. (Acts 1900, p. 52. Van Epps' code supp. section 6184.

5. Where the maker of a deed of trust to secure a debt expressly contracts that in the event of default in the payment of the debt the trustee may sell the land at public outcry before the door of the courthouse of a named county in another state, the sale of the land in such state in compliance with the terms of the trust deed is not void; and this is true though the instrument be in the nature of a mortgage, and a sale thereunder quasi-judicial in character.

6. Where the execution of a deed or mortgage has been admitted or proved, it is not a ground to exclude it from evidence that it is not under seal.

7. Where a deed of trust to secure a debt directed that in the event of default in the payment of the debt the trustee should sell the property "after advertising said sale for ten days by publication in some newspaper published in" a named county, advertising in a weekly paper in the county named, for three successive issues next preceding the date of the sale, was a compliance with the direction, it appearing that the first advertisement was more than ten days prior to the date of the sale.

8. The letters excluded from evidence were admissible as throwing light on the real nature of the transaction between the parties, which gave rise to the action of ejectment; and there was before the court sufficient evidence that the writings were executed by the defendant to enable the jury, by a comparison of signatures, to pass upon the issue raised by the contention as to the execution.

Judgment reversed. Cobb, J., disqualified.

Atkinson & Dunwody, for plaintiff.

Kay, Bennet & Conyers and Gale & Butts, for defendant.

454. Humphreys v. Brown, executor. Levy and claim. Before Judge Evans. Jefferson superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—This case presented an issue of fraud. The evidence was of such a character as to authorize a finding either way. The judge submitted the issues fairly to the jury; and there was no error of law requiring the granting of a new trial.

Judgment affirmed.

Henry C. Roney and Phillips & Phillips, for plaintiff in error.

Cain & Hardeman, contra.

455. Waters v. Durrence et al. Complaint for land. Before Judge Evans. Tatnall superior court.

Lamar, J.—1. The plaintiff failed to show title to the land sued for.

2. While there was evidence that the plaintiff's ancestor had been in possession under color of title for a short time prior to 1861, it was not such possession as had ripened into a prescriptive title.

3. There was evidence that the land sued for had been in the adverse possession of others for more than twenty years before the bringing of the suit.

4. The defendants could avail themselves of paramount outstanding title in third persons without connecting themselves therewith.

Judgment affirmed.

W. T. Burkhalter and Twiggs & Oliver for plaintiff.

James K. Hines, for defendants.

456. Schofield Manufacturing Company v. Cochran, receiver. Intervention. Before Judge Reagan. Pike superior court.

Candler, J.—One desiring to purchase goods which had been pledged as security for a debt was required by the pledgee, as a condition precedent to the release of the goods, to deposit the purchase price to his account in a named bank, and to "save him harmless in the transaction." Accordingly, the purchaser deposited to the credit of the pledge, in the bank designated, a draft drawn on a bank in another city, for the amount in question. It was known to the officers of the bank first mentioned that the sole purpose of the draft and deposit was to obtain the release of the goods from the custody of the pledgee, but no special instructions were given to them in regard to the funds so deposited. The draft was forwarded for collection, and was duly paid; but before the money was returned to the bank in which it was deposited, that bank failed and was placed in the hands of a receiver. The purchaser of the goods, in accordance with his agreement, paid the amount of the draft to the pledgee, and brought suit against the depository bank. Held, that the deposit to the account of the pledgee was a general and not a special deposit, and did not entitle the purchaser, who was subrogated to the rights of the pledgee, to priority over the claims of other general depositors.

Judgment affirmed. Simmons, C. J., disqualified.

W. W. Lambdin and Erwin & Callaway, for plaintiff.

Allen & Tisinger, for defendant.

457. Brooke v. Augusta Warehouse and Banking Company. Distress warrant. Before Judge Eve. City court of Richmond county.

Fish, P. J.—1. Where after levy the progress of a distress warrant is arrested by counter-affidavit denying that the sum distrained for is due, the warrant becomes mesne process, and the proceeding is converted into a suit for the rent. Chisholm v. Lewis, 66 Ga. 729; Elam v. Hamilton, 69 Ga. 736. Such counter affidavit is a plea to the merits. Hawkins v. Collier, 101 Ga. 145, and cit. "After a plea to the merits a defendant can make no objection to the manner by which he has been brought into court." Pool v. Perdue, 44 Ga. 458; Civil Code, section 4981. It follows that where a distress warrant, by mistake of the magistrate issuing it, was made returnable to the January term, 1902, of a city court having cognizance of the matter, when it should have been made returnable to the January term, 1903, of such court, and the defendant, after levy, filed a counter affidavit, and the warrant and counter affidavit were returned to the proper term of such court, a motion of the defendant, then and there made, to dismiss the warrant upon the ground of such mistake as to the term to which it was returnable, was properly overruled.

2. A complaint that the court erred in admitting, over the objection of the movant, certain parol testimony when there was higher written evidence of the fact, is not meritorious when it does not appear from the motion itself that there was such better evidence.

3. While there was some evidence tending to show that the contract between plaintiff and defendant was one of bailment, there was ample evidence to authorize a finding that it was one of rental.

Judgment affirmed. Lamar, J., disqualified.

Smith, Hammond & Smith, for plaintiff in error.

C. Henry Cohen, contra.

458. Harp, by next friend v. Southern Railway Company. Damages. Before Judge Roan. Clayton superior court.

Lamar, J.—1. As many tickets entitle the bearer to transportation, they might be used by the finder, with the result that two could ride for one fare if the company were required to carry a passenger who has lost the ticket purchased by him.

2. A passenger who loses his ticket has no right to be carried upon making or offering to make proof that one paid for has been lost. The loss falls on him, and not on the carrier.

3. It affirmatively appears from the allegations of the petition that the plaintiff neither had nor offered to pay the fare. On his failure to produce a ticket he was lawfully evicted.

4. Where a petition has been dismissed on general demurrer, and the judgment theron has been affirmed, there is nothing to amend by; nor do the facts here call for the exercise of any discretionary power by this court to grant an order allowing the plaintiff to amend before the entry of the remittitur in the trial court.

Judgment affirmed.

W. R. Hammond and M. D. Womble, for plaintiff.

Dorsey, Brewster & Howell and Arthur Heyman, for defendant.

459. Ray v. Anderson, administrator. Complaint on note. Before Judge Calhoun. City court of Atlanta.

Candler, J.—1. The defendant in a suit on a promissory note can not inquire into the title of the holder, unless it is necessary for his protection or to let in the defense which he seeks to make. Civil code, section 3698.

(a) Under section 5432, of the civil code, the assignee or holder of a note given for the purchase-money of land may, in appropriate proceedings, subject the land to his debt. Hence, in a suit brought on a promissory note of the character mentioned and payable to named persons or bearer, it is not a good defense that title to the note has been (since the passage of the act of 1894, codified in the section before cited) transferred without indorsement to other persons; and an amendment to a plea seeking to set up this defense, and claiming that the alleged owners of the note would not, in a suit against the defendant, be entitled to a lien against the land for the purchase-money of which the notes were given, was properly disallowed.

(b) Nor can the defendant, in defense to an ordinary common-law suit on a promissory note, set up a claim arising ex delicto. Hecht v. Snook, 114 Ga. 923, and cit. The fact that the defendant might have this right in an equitable proceeding which has not been instituted will not avail him as a defense to a pending suit at law.

2. Statement of the place of payment in a promissory note does not affect the liability of the maker; "it is the duty of such party to come and pay." Big. Bills, 2 ed. 35. Therefore, in a suit on a note in which no place of payment was stipulated, evidence that the payee resided in Chicago, and that the contract was to pay the note in that city, was properly excluded as immaterial. It was also immaterial that one of the payees was sui juris.

3. The interest on the debt sued for was properly computed. Ray v. Pease, 97 Ga. 618. The amendment to the defendant's plea, for reasons set out in the first note, was properly disallowed. A finding for the plaintiff was, under the undisputed evidence, legally necessary; and the direction of the verdict complained of will not be held error.

Judgment affirmed.

L. R. Ray, W. R. Hammond and R. O. Lovett, for plaintiff in error.

Anderson, Anderson & Thomas and Rosser & Brandon, contra.

460. Pound v. Williams. Before Judge Henderson. City court of Vienna.

Simmons, C. J.—Suit was brought in a city court on a draft given for the purchase of personal property. The plea admitted the sale and delivery of the article bought. It did not allege that the property was worthless, or of value less than the draft given. There was no plea of total or partial failure of consideration, or in abatement of the purchase money. The sole prayer of the defendant was for a cancellation and delivery of the draft, and for recession on the ground of deceit and misrepresentation as to the quality of the goods and breach of the warranty. Held:

1. That breach of warranty does not annul an executed sale, but gives the purchaser a right to damages where the contract price has been fully paid; or he may plead in abatement of the purchase money when sued therefor. Civil code, section 3556.

2. A city court can not grant affirmative equitable relief.

Judgment affirmed.

Crum & Jones, for plaintiff in error.

Whipple & McKenzie and Reed & Ryals, contra.

461. Bentley et al. v. Crumley & Hamilton. Equitable petition. Before Judge Roberts. Wilcox superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—1. When in an action of ejectment the declaration is amended by laying an entirely new demise, the statute of limitations, relative to the plaintiff's right to recover, runs in favor of the defendant until the date of the filing of such amendment.

2. Where a proceeding in the superior court, brought under the uniform procedure act, is partly legal and partly equitable, the legal branch of the case should be controlled, as far as possible, by the legal principles that would have applied had it been the basis of a separate proceeding.

3. Where such a proceeding is both legal and equitable relief embraces what amounts to a suit in ejectment for land, and an amendment is subsequently filed which lays an entirely new demise, such amendment, relatively to the statute of limitations, does not relate back to the date of the filing of the original petition, but should be tried as of the date of the filing of the amendment.

4. Where a deed is introduced in evidence and attacked as a forgery, and it is shown by strong and uncontradicted evidence that the blank in which it is written was printed long after the death of the party by whom the deed purports to have been executed, finding that such deed is genuine is without evidence to support it and should be set aside.

Judgment affirmed in part and reversed in part.

Elridge Cutts, Hal Lamar and J. W. Haygood, for plaintiffs.

J. L. Bankston, J. H. Martin and D. B. Nicholson, for defendant.

462. Telfair County v. Webb. Damages. Before Judge McRae. City court of McRae.

Simmons, C. J.—1. The court should instruct the jury, even though not so requested, upon the general features of the law applicable to the material and substantial issues in a case, and leave to the jury the determination of all disputed issues of fact.

2. Where a mare has been temporarily disabled for service and also permanently injured, the measure of the owner's damage includes reasonable hire for the time during which the disability continues, as well as making good any diminution in market value occasioned by the permanent effects of the injury (the aggregate of these amounts being limited to the value of the mare with interest thereon), and also any expense incurred in keeping and treating the mare during the period of disability.

Judgment reversed.

B. M. Frizzell, for plaintiff in error.

D. C. McLennan, contra.

463. Commissioners Thomas County v. Hopkins, and vice versa. Mandamus. Before Judge Mitchell. Thomas superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—A judge of the superior court has no jurisdiction at chambers and in vacation, to render a final judgment upon a verdict previously rendered at a regular term of the court.

Writ of error dismissed, with leave to withdraw the cross bill of exceptions and file it as exceptions pendente lite.

W. M. Hammond for the county commissioners.

Theodore Titus, contra.

464. Rooney v. Southern Building and Loan Association. Complaint. Before Judge Eve. City court of Richmond county.

Lamar, J.—1. Upon dissolution, the fact that a receiver has been appointed for a corporation does not abate a suit then pending in its name.

2. Whatever may be the right of the defendant under a plea in abatement, or on motion to make parties, he can not obtain a continuance on the ground that a receiver has been appointed for the plaintiff.

3. A company such in fact cannot, by calling itself a building and loan association, acquire the privilege of charging more than the rate of interest lawful in ordinary contracts between borrower and lender.

4. Where one takes stock and makes a contract with a company who name prima facie imports that it is a building and loan association, the burden is on him to show that under the charter and laws of the state was created it is not such in reality.

5. The mere fact that there are different classes of stock with different rights and liabilities of the stockholders does not necessarily destroy the company's character as a building and loan association.

6. The defendant's plea was properly stricken, because it not only failed to aver that the different classes of stock were in existence at the time he made the contract and became member, but it also failed to show that such differences and inequalities were a status to destroy the building and loan feature of the company.

7. Where a contract on its face was with a building and loan association and to be governed by the laws of Alabama, but there was no allegation of the statute of that state as to any building and loan association, or building and loan associations, nor was there any presumption that the contract was usurious or otherwise illegal under the laws of that state.

8. The plaintiff made out its case, for more than the amount of the verdict, by the introduction of the defendant's written promise to pay. The evidence alleged to be secondary, even if such was helpful to the defendant, and reduced the amount of the plaintiff's verdict.

Judgment affirmed.

Salem Dutcher, for plaintiff in error.

William H. Barrett, contra.

465. Valdosta Guano Company v. Hart et al. Levy and claim. Before Judge Mitchell. Brooks superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—1. Where an execution is levied upon two separate tracts of land, and two different claims are filed, one person claiming one of the tracts levied upon and another person the other tract, the trial of the two claim cases together by consent of all the parties does not merge the two cases into one.

2. Where in such cases the judge below, on motion of the claimants, dismisses the levy as excessive, passing but one order of dismissal, this order is in effect equivalent to a similar order in each case (Western Assurance Co. v. Way, 98 Ga. 746), and the plaintiff has the right to sue out a separate bill of exceptions in each case. Where, however, the plaintiff seeks by a single bill of exceptions to review the ruling in both cases, the writ of error must be dismissed for want of jurisdiction in this court to entertain it. (Brown v. Railroad Co., 117 Ga. 222, and cit.; Center v. Paper Co., 117 Ga. 222.)

Writ of error dismissed.

Bennet & Bennet, for plaintiff.

A. T. Woodward and L. W. Branch, contra.

466. Friar v. Curry, Arrington & Co. Certiorari. Before Judge Mitchell. Berrien superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—An appeal may be entered by attorney at law without written authority so to do.

Judgment affirmed.

J. A. Alday and J. Z. Jackson, for plaintiff in error.

Hendricks Harrison, contra.

467. Seaboard Air Line Railway et al. v. Jones. Damages. Before Judge Littlejohn. Early superior court.

This case for decision by a complete bench of justices, who are evenly divided upon the judgment stands affirmed by operation of law.

J. Randolph Anderson, E. A. Hawkins, and U. Whipple, for plaintiffs in error.

Joseph Hall and Allen Fort & Son, contra.

468. Columbus Fertilizer Company v. Hanks. Bill of illegality. Before Judge pro hac vice. Muscogee superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—A judgment rendered in a justice's court will not be kept in life, and the bar of the dormancy statute arrested, by entries on the execution, recorded upon the general execution docket, but not found upon the execution docket of the superior court of the county of the defendant's residence.

Judgment affirmed. Lamar, J., disqualified. Candler and Turner, JJ., dissent.

Turner, J. The proper entry upon an execution or recording of such entry upon the general execution docket are such puts, if done within time, as will, between the parties, arrest the running of the statute of dormancy.

J. H. Lumpkin and T. L. Bowden, for plaintiff in error.

T. T. Hall, for defendants.

469. Bivens & Co., v. Georgia and Alabama Railway et al. Exceptions to auditor's report. Before Judge Littlejohn. Early superior court.

Cobb, J. The neglect of a party excepting to auditor's report on matters of law dependent for decision upon the evidence, to point out appropriate reference to the auditor's brief of evidence, or to attach exhibits to his exceptions, those portions of the evidence relied on to support his exceptions, renders the report of the auditor of little assistance to the court, and is a good reason, in an equity case, for refusing to approve the exceptions of fact, overruling the exceptions of law.

2. The provisions of the civil code, section 3546, are applicable to planters and commission merchants.

(a) A planter, within that section, is one who is engaged in the business of producing crops from the soil; and it is immaterial whether he sows and reaps with his own hand or that of a tenant, the hand of a cropper, or the hand of a hired laborer.

(b) A planter who himself of the protection of the rule before cited, in any cash sale of cotton which may be made by him, is without reference to whether it was owned by him or acquired from another.

AUDITOR BEATEN IN CONSOLATION

Colt Was Last in the Final Stretch.

Event Won by De Reszke, 8 to 1, After Brush, with Haviland Down the Stretch—Spectacular Chase in Cross Country.

Memphis, Tenn., March 31.—Captain Brown's derby candidate, Auditor, was badly beaten in the Montgomery consolation purse today at one mile, by the older division.

The colt was second choice in the betting and was heavily played. He was prominent for half of the journey, but died away to nothing in the stretch and finished in the ruck. The race was won by DeReszke after a brush down the stretch with Haviland, which ran an improved race over the opening day. Luralighter finished third, a length away.

The opening dash brought out a large field and was won by M. J. Daly's Elliott, which was heavily played at threes.

The second event was for 2-year-old colts and geldings, at four and a half furlongs. Oceaner, from Ellisons's stable, won handily from Fine Cut and Marsh Redon. The finish for second place in this race was one of the closest seen in years, only the judges being able to separate the horses, Fine Cut getting the verdict by the narrowest of margins.

The five furlong dash for 3-year-olds was won by Monastic. Floral King, the favorite, finished second.

The cross country event furnished a spectacular chase. The seven starters took the hurdles without a mishap and Itacatiara won handily from Farmer's Foe. Circus Girl won the over-night selling race from Midshipman.

THE FUNERAL SERVICES OF Abraham Rosenfeld have been postponed and will not take place until Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The delay was caused by the fact that S. A. Rosenfeld, a son of the deceased, was unable to reach Atlanta from his home in Seattle, Wash., in time for the funeral.

MRS. EMMA S. REEVES, 226 STATE street, died yesterday afternoon at her residence. She was 68 years old. Four sons survive her as follows: J. T. Reeves, W. H. Reeves, H. W. Reeves and A. A. Reeves. The funeral services will occur Saturday morning from the residence at 9:30 o'clock.

The case is set for trial before Recorder Nash Broyles this morning.

CHIEF OF POLICE JOHN W. BALL yesterday announced several changes in the police force that will go into effect this morning. One of the leading features of the change is the taking of two men off the day call and adding one man to the morning call. Heretofore there have been four men on day call and only one man on morning call. Three call men are still retained on the evening watch. The following men are transferred to the evening watch for the bicycle squad: Cooper, Moss, Highsmith, Gower and Dunton. TRAVELERS LOSE GAME.

New York Giants Won Out at Little Rock in the Ninth Inning.

Little Rock, Ark., March 31.—(Special.) With two men out and two men on bases, McGann, of New York, laced a single to center in the ninth inning today, scoring two runs, and winning the game. The team left at once for Nashville on a special.

The game was all Little Rock's way until the sixth inning. McPartlin started the box work for Little Rock and worked three innings without allowing a run and but three hits. In the sixth Doblin hit for three bases and scored and Mertes stole home.

In the ninth, with two runs needed to win, Bolin, who went in in the fourth, walked two men and hit one. With two out, McGann singled, two men scoring. Annis Gilbert, Hurley and Householder were the only ones who could do anything with Milligan and Wiltse's slants. Householder and Dunne played brilliantly in the outfield.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., March 31.—(Special.)—One of the largest crowds of the season gathered on the university campus this afternoon to witness the game between the University of Alabama and the agricultural college of Mississippi, Alabama winning by the score of 6 to 3. Both teams did good work, but from the very beginning it could be clearly seen that the 'varsity boys had the training and team work which added greatly to their strength.

The university has practically a new team, this season, and are making wonderful progress, being wonderfully quick and cool-headed. Eddington and Smith did the star playing for Alabama, while Eastland won laurels for Mississippi.

Boston Americans Won by Score of 2 to 1—Snappy Work of Both Teams.

Montgomery, Ala., March 31.—(Special.)—The Boston Americans won the game this afternoon from Montgomery by the score of 2 to 1. The game was exciting and interesting. TOTAL ECLIPSE CATARRH CURE

STOP CATARRH BEFORE IT BECOMES CONSUMPTION.

IT is money thrown away to try to cure CATARRH with so-called blood purifiers and tonics. Catarrh, in its incipiency and early stages, is a purely local disease and can be cured only by a remedy reaching directly the affected parts. After long and patient scientific research an absolutely unfailing remedy for this dreadful disease was discovered and perfected. A combination of rare herbs, which produces when smoked in a pipe or cigarette a healing, soothing, penetrating vapor, going directly to the seat of the disease, driving out the germ and absolutely and permanently eradicating every vestige of catarrh, is now offered to the public in the wonderful TOTAL ECLIPSE CATARRH CURE.

HARD HITTING AT NASHVILLE

Nashville, Tenn., March 31.—(Special.)—Detroit took the game from Nashville easily today by a score of 12 to 5. It started out a slugging match, Sherman Kennedy for Nashville lining out the second ball thrown for a home run. Knoll got a home run in the seventh inning. The game was one of sharp fielding as well as hard hitting. Mullins held the local hits scattered, but they bunched hits on Oscar Streit in the seventh for three runs. Nickens, the Nashville boy, pitched the entire game for the Fishermen. Several fireworks plays were made, especially the double of McIntyre in left to McManus at the plate. The score:

Governor Bullock on Suffrage.

In his communication published elsewhere in this morning's Constitution, Governor Rufus B. Bullock asks us to "publish the decision of the supreme court of the United States which sustains the present constitution of South Carolina as to suffrage and justifies the action of the house committee in the Dantsler case" from that state.

Come, come, governor; why beg the question? The absence of a supreme court decision touching the constitutionality of the amended state constitution of South Carolina does not in any material sense affect the principle involved in the whole controversy over the amended constitutions of several southern states, the gist of which principle has already been passed upon by the highest tribunal in the republic in test cases brought by Governor Bullock's side of the controversy from the states of Virginia and Alabama. The same general principle is involved in the case of South Carolina and it goes without saying that the aggressive republican politicians and thrifty political lawyers of the Palmetto State would ere this have made a similar test of the matter if the status of the state's constitution differed enough from the constitutions of Virginia and Alabama to warrant the faintest hope that a test case in the United States supreme court would result differently. There are plenty of Hayes and Wises in South Carolina, and the negro citizenry is quite as credulous and gullible as the Virginia variety. Yet, the case is so manifestly hopeless that enterprising negro agitators and republican lawyers have not been able to take up a collection for "defense" in that neck of the black belt.

In effect, the Dantzler case sought to make the congress of the United States the plaintiff in reopening the whole question of the constitutionality of these amended state constitutions, in the United States supreme court, and this after specific decisions by that tribunal in the premises. Such action on the part of the elections committee of the house would have been an impertinent and defiant challenge of a political body to a judicial body, and it is not surprising that partisan zeal hesitated to go to such absurd lengths.

If the contestant in this particular case has a legal grievance, he will have no difficulty in airing it before the United States supreme court along the lines followed in Virginia and Alabama. Incidentally, he will learn something conclusive touching the constitutionality of the state constitution of South Carolina.

The letter of the fifteenth amendment has not been violated by any of the southern states that have seen fit to exercise their constitutional right to make a degree of education the qualification for the franchise privilege. Suffrage is a privilege, not a right, and nothing could be more logical and morally defendable than its establishment upon an educational basis. "Race, color and previous condition of servitude" does not enter into the matter, and there will be no "entanglements" resulting from the "enforcement of the fifteenth amendment," for it will never be made legally capable of enforcement after Governor Bullock's heart's desire.

The states of the union will continue to regulate their own suffrage within existing constitutional limitations. If the negro, more than the illiterate white, is disfranchised through his illiteracy, it is largely because of the numerical preponderance of his illiterates.

A Voice from the Northwest.

The esteemed Duluth News-Tribune, a g. o. p. journal of the strictest sect, declares that The Constitution can "affect a satisfaction though it has it not" over the tariff reform and reciprocity sentiment within the republican party in the northwest, and goes on to comment on a recent editorial of ours in which facts were exhibited in proof of the existence of a strong "Iowa idea" sentiment, not alone in the northwest, but the country over.

"This 'quiet humor,'" declares the Duluth organ, "arises from taking the hasheesh visions of a section of the press which includes the Minneapolis and St. Paul papers, and such metropolitan journals as The Chicago Record-Herald for facts."

The News-Tribune then cites the action of recent republican conventions in its neck of the political woods to show that the republicans up there are in line with the "stand pat" policy of the party majority on "protection," referring to Governor Cummins, of Iowa, as having been "overwhelmingly defeated" and declaring that "the 'Iowa idea' is under the feet of the 'standpatters.'" The Minnesota state republican convention, it says, "spoke enthusiastically for protection, but gave reciprocity a cold, general indorsement, carefully ignoring all mention of Canada." Similar action on the part of republican congressional conventions in Minnesota is cited.

The News-Tribune concludes:

The Atlanta Constitution would do well to study the walls of The Minneapolis Journal and the St. Paul Dispatch since the republican state convention, and that angry jeremiad in which The Chicago Chronicle concedes that the United States is hopelessly given over to the protection idolatry.

All of which proves nothing in rebuttal of The Constitution's contention that the republican party is all torn up on the tariff question in the northwest and elsewhere. Granted that the administration pie-hunters swung the conventions for the "stand pat" dictum of the party, That is the invariable outcome of a contest of the kind. The tariff reformers within the republican party are not aggressive enough to go out and attempt the capture of conventions in force, under the circumstances. Most of them will be content to register their sentiments in an Australian system voting booth this fall.

The New Cotton Crop.

The spring work of the southern farmer is now far enough advanced for statisticians to gather some reliable idea of the extent of the increase in the cotton acreage this season.

Special reports from the branch offices of R. G. Dun & Co. throughout the cotton belt are to the effect that the increase will be decided, ranging to as high as 20 or 30 per cent over that of last year. This percentage of increase we regard as conservative, and it would not surprise us in the least to see it finally placed at 33 1-3 per cent. Very many farmers are reported to be doubling their cotton acreage, and there are many planting cotton in quantity for the first time.

We are pleased to quote from Dun's special reports as follows:

Purchases of fertilizers, farming implements and mules, have been large. In some localities labor is scarce and higher wages are being asked. All cities report largely reduced stocks of old cotton, compared with last year. In Texas an active educational campaign has been carried on to induce farmers to adopt scientific methods and this has proven efficacious, even in the boll weevil districts, and large quantities of seed have been brought from North Carolina and other eastern states. The cotton area will be widened west and northwest and will show an increased acreage of 20 per cent, and the yield is expected to exceed that of any past year. In northern Alabama and northern Mississippi the increased acreage will be from one-fifth to one-third; in Tennessee, 20 per cent is expected and from 10 to 20 per cent in North Carolina. In most parts of Georgia the acreage will be much larger than last year, with an increase of fertilizer sales from 25 to 30 per cent. In eastern Georgia fertilizer sales are about the same as last year, but sales of farming implements and mules have decreased. More cotton will be planted in Virginia than for several years. The increased acreage in South Carolina is estimated at 2 to 10 per cent, as fertilizer sales have increased 20 per cent. In western Tennessee the conditions are reported very satisfactory. The farmers are in a good financial condition and the largest increase in acreage ever known is expected. The increased acreage in southern Missouri and northern Arkansas will be large.

It certainly does look as if the south is going to make a brave effort to raise 12,000,000 bales this season—and that is the minimum quantity market conditions demand.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Supreme Court and Fifteenth Amendment.

Editor Constitution: Thanks for your kindness in copying this morning my letter to The New York Tribune of the 21st.

Commenting on the letter you say—

"Strangely enough, it does not seem to have occurred to Governor Bullock that the real reason for the elections committee's non-action in the premises lies in the modest disinclination of the congress of the United States to attempt to overrule the United States supreme court."

Will The Constitution be good enough to publish the decision of the supreme court of the United States, which sustains the present constitution of South Carolina as to suffrage, and justifies the action of the house committee in the Dantzler case?

There would be no objection from any source to amended constitutions which based the franchise on intelligence and property qualifications. But drawing the line on race, color and previous condition of servitude, will prove an impotent attempt to reverse the results of a great war.

Georgia has wisely avoided this revolutionary action, and is free from any entanglement that may follow an enforcement of the fifteen amendment.

Wants No Cleveland.

Editor Constitution: It is not often that it trouble you, but I can not desist after reading an article in your esteemed daily of the 29th, in which for extravagance in language and his eagerness for an old time friend certainly caps the climax. The Hon. T. C. Crenshaw, who held office under Cleveland, is the writer of this article, and no doubt would be delighted to see Cleveland in the presidential chair again. Mr. Crenshaw so gracefully refers to the fact that the politicians are so anxious to get on the "Parker band wagon" that they are actually organizing two Parker clubs. He goes on to say that there is one man only who stands any chance to be elected by the democrats, and his name does not begin with a "P" either.

Mr. Crenshaw gets so enthusiastic as to suggest that if Cleveland's name should be even mentioned at St. Louis he fears that the convention hall would fairly shake. Don't fear, my friend, for I trust his name will not even be thought of, at least in the direction of a nomination, not even for a justice of the peace. I believe I voice the sentiments of a vast majority of the democratic voters of this beautiful land of ours, when I say, from a party standpoint, Cleveland doesn't deserve the honor to have his name even mentioned at all.

MARTIAL LAW FOR STRIKERS.

Great Disorder Prevails in French Department of North.

Paris, March 31.—Martial law practically prevails in the department of the north owing to the menacing attitude of the striking textile workers.

One hundred and sixteen establishments including various cotton, linen and woolen mills and 12,169 strikers, are now involved. Roubaix has been occupied by cavalry and infantry. The main streets were barricaded and several skirmishes occurred.

The strikers continue defiant.

A Song of Rest.

I.

I love to contemplate the sky
'Neath shady pine, or willow,
Stretched on a velvet couch of grass—
A melon for a pillow!
(O toilers in the grass I see,
Please leave a couch of it for me!)

II.

I love a river-bank so green,
Also the breezes that's bringing
O'er meadows, to my rest serene,
The sweaty plowman's singing.
(O plowman of the soil so free,
Leave some for daisies, and for me!)

III.

In fact, I love most anything
That's gained without endeavor;
The song of "Rest" my soul could sing
Forever and forever!
(You know not, friends who love me best,
How I can rest, and rest, and rest!)

Directions of Providence.

One of the ancient growlers has formulated a schedule for providence "which," he says, "if considered favorably, will greatly please me!" It is as follows:—

"I will not be able to afford any sickness in the family this year—Providence having thoughtfully removed our late, beloved mother in law some time since.

"I would not object to a slight railroad accident to my father in law—such as the loss of an arm, or, possibly, the leg which has the rheumatism in it. I have a paid-up accident policy on him, and I shall need a little money later on.

"I shall not care for an earthquake to swallow my land, having just settled all back taxes on it; but I should not object to a hurricane blowing the house down, while I am absent, at a picnic, as I need the insurance—which is for twice its value.

"Finally, I shall be pleased with medium weather—neither too hot, nor too cool—and bountiful harvests, and some one to gather them for me!"

And—sometimes—meat:
You'll get there, by degrees!

II.

O, just review your blessings!
Of course, some fail to please;
You want to go from this world's snow,
On other realms to seize.
And sure, you'll go!
Above—below—
You'll get there, by degrees!

INMAN MAY RUN FOR MAYORALTY

States in Interview That He May Not Run.

Matters Are Shaping Up in Municipal Politics, and It Appears That Another Three-Cornered Race Cannot Be Avoided This Year.

Hugh T. Inman, alderman from the sixth ward, probably has under consideration the matter of announcing his candidacy for mayor. This is not admitted by Alderman Inman, but it is the impression given by him during an interview yesterday.

The fact that Alderman Inman may be in the race when the line-up comes will be interesting to those who are concerned in the political affairs of the municipality, as it is admitted that he will be a factor in the race and one that must be reckoned with by those who are now of the opinion that they will run.

At present the possible candidates are Frank P. Rice, Alderman Hugh T. Inman, Mayor Pro Tem. T. D. Longino, Alderman James G. Woodward and James L. Key.

Mr. Key has already stated to his friends that he will run. He is in the race, although he has not made his formal announcement. Alderman Woodward has said practically as much, and he is considered as already in the race for the mayoralty.

It is known that Mr. Rice is anxious to run, and he has already requested his friends to remain unpledged until they hear from him. Mayor Pro Tem. Longino, the alderman from the seventh ward, is known to have aspirations, and he admits that he has under advisement the matter of offering himself for the mayoralty. Alderman Inman has been spoken of as a possible candidate, but the most definite statement came from him yesterday afternoon.

"I have come to ask you a direct question for publication," his interviewer told him.

"What is it?" he asked.

"Are you going to make the race for the mayoralty?"

"I don't know yet," Alderman Inman replied calmly.

"Have you been seriously considering the matter?" was the next question.

"Well, you are asking a heap of questions, aren't you?" he replied smilingly.

No answer being given, Alderman Inman remained thoughtful for a moment and then began of his own accord.

"If I say I am not going to run, that puts me out of it, don't it?"

"Unless you change your mind."

"Well, I couldn't do that," he replied. "If I say I am not going to run, that puts me out of it, and if I say that I am going to run, then I will have to run. I don't know what to say."

The conversation drifted, but finally Alderman Inman returned to the question.

"I don't know," he said. "I may not run. It is too early to say yet. Let's wait and see what the other fellows do. It is too early in the summer to talk about it. I don't expect I'll run. It is too hard a job, and takes up a heap of time."

"What are you going to say I said?" he asked as the conversation drew to a close.

"Just exactly what you have said," he was told, and that is what has been done.

"Well, treat me right," he concluded.

As a matter of fact, efforts are being made to prevent Mayor Pro Tem. Longino, Alderman Inman and Mr. Rice from running against each other, and the present indications are that if one of them is in the race the two others will not only not offer for the mayoralty, but will support him.

HOUSTON TALKS DISPENSARY.

Question May Affect the Race for Legislature.

Fort Valley, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The dispensary question for Houston county is being discussed and an effort will be made next Monday to get the county executive committee to arrange for the people to vote on the question at the coming primary. This contemplates the people voting on the question irrespective of legislative candidates. Strong opposition has developed against this method. Those opposed to it contend that if the question is to be injected into the campaign at all the candidates should declare themselves on the question and in this way the representatives elected would have views consistent with the wishes of their constituents. The matter will be discussed at the mass meeting of the voters of the county to be held during the noon recess of the court next Monday and a large attendance is confidently expected.

Judge A. C. Riley, who is the present chairman of the county executive committee, is a candidate to represent the third congressional district as a delegate to the national convention to be held in St. Louis. Judge Riley is prominently known throughout the district.

Hon. Walter E. Steed, member of the present house of representatives, has no opposition in his race for state senator from the twenty-third district. In his race for the presidency of the senate Mr. Steed reports he is meeting with encouragement.

WITH THE STATE PRESS.

Americus Times-Recorder: Up to the hour of going to press this morning the peach crop was still safe. Fair Elberta is an object of tender solicitude in Georgia just now, for she is indeed worth millions.

Augusta Herald: Japan claims to have all the money she wants to fight Russia. What she wants is Russian blood.

Savannah Press: General Wood should salute the ex-confederate senators, generals, too, who helped promote him.

Waycross Herald: Members of the Panama commission, on a salary of $10 a month, are strong believers in the recent revolution on the Isthmus.

Thomasville Times-Enterprise: Give a dog a bad name—and people will say he is a Russian.

Augusta Chronicle: A letter addressed to "Any Good Young Lawyer," was returned to the writer by an Indiana postmaster. It is not often that postmasters are so accurate in the delivery of mail.

Walton Tribune: Perhaps Judge Reid is sawing wood, or, perhaps he is slinging over political dynamite. At any rate he is very successful at saying nothing.

PARKER CLUBS SPRING SIGNS

New Placards Their Appearance Every Few Minutes.

New signs make their appearance every few minutes around the headquarters of the two Parker clubs at the Kimball house, it would seem to the casual observer.

On Wednesday the Parker Club of Georgia had its sign over the desk in the hotel lobby. Yesterday that sign had disappeared and the sign of the Parker Democratic Club of Georgia had taken its place.

Rooms 108 and 110, which are occupied by the Parker Club of Georgia, are in the southeast corner of the Kimball. Rooms 114 and 116, which are occupied by the other club, are in the west end of those down the hall across the top of a little hallway to the left. The window a sign has been placed by the Parker Democratic Club of Georgia, announcing its leading creed and bearing a large hand pointing the way to its rooms. The appearance of the sign was a little too much for the members of the other club, and they tried to tear it down. Manager Hicks, however, stated that he had given up for it to be put there, and it stayed. Now the Parker Club of Georgia proposes to put up a similar sign above it with a big hand pointing toward it.

The story of the situation as to how things are moving with the two Parker clubs. The Parker Club of Georgia seemed to have the best of visitors, and was kept busy entertaining friends all day.

The Parker Club of Fulton county, which was organized last night, was organized under the auspices of E. D. Thomas, executive committeeman for the fifth congressional district. Members of the other club are in it, but Mr. Thomas says every member of the DeKalb county club will be a Parker Club of Georgia, and will stand with it to the end.

Frank M. Stafford, of Jonesville, was in the headquarters of the Parker Club of Georgia yesterday and said the matter of organizing in Fulton county would be taken up at once and a strong club would be formed.

No further progress has been made toward harmony between the two clubs.

RAIN BILLS TODAY.

Reports from Other Part of State Promise Clear Day.

The weather seems to be partly cloudy today, with

There was little rain in the elements that drenched Atlanta yesterday, except half-hearted rain did not materialize. Reports from the southern part of the state that corn and all of the other crops are in the best possible condition and far in advance of this time last year. The prospects so bright for cotton and other crops and the fruit growing ready for a record-breaking the coming summer should be a very eventful one in Georgia.

According to yesterday's weather map, the weather continues cloudy over most of the country, rain has moved northeast and covers the entire northern half of the map east of the Rockies. Rain was reported at stations in the northwest. The central lowest pressure is now over Kansas, having moved but little during the forty-four hours.

An extensive area of high barometer has moved in from the extreme northwest, and its influence is now being felt over the northern mountain region and the northern Pacific coast. The southern "high" is gradually decreasing in energy and moves seaward. There has been a slight rise in temperature east from Mississippi, while over the states where have been no marked changes.

HALL SERVICE IMPROVED.

Inspection by Chief Finds Hacks in Better Shape Than Ever Before.

The regular quarterly hack inspection was completed today by Chief of Police John W. Beavers announces himself as being greatly pleased with the present condition of the hack service.

Chief Ball says that the hacks are now in better condition than they have ever been, although he says there is still some room for improvement. Both the hacks and horses are now in excellent shape, all of the disabled horses and broken out vehicles having been removed from the streets.

During the course of the inspections, extending over a period of three years, the number of hacks has been reduced from about one-half, owing from the reduction and puttin of the streets of those in addition. The total number of hacks in service is about forty. Chief Ball was assisted in the inspection by Drs. the veterinary surgeon, who is connected with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

TO CALL ON CONFEDERATE CAMPS.

Gordon Monument Committee Will Urge Them To Subscribe Fund.

At a well-attended meeting of the executive committee of John B. Gordon Monument Association held yesterday afternoon at the Kimball hotel, various plans for extending the work were discussed, and several committees reported additional subscriptions. Additional lists of subscriptions will be published later.

A complete list of the 1,523 camps of Confederate Veterans throughout the south has been made and a letter will be addressed to each of these from the executive committee. The committee believes that every camp will subscribe something, and for great results from this source.

OVER $1,000 INCREASE.

Clearings in Atlanta Show Tremendous Strides. Local Business Circles.

The clearings of the Atlanta Clearing House Association for the month of March, 1904, show an increase of over $1,000,000 over the month of March, 1903. As an index of the growth of the business interests and prosperity of Atlanta, just these carry much more force than columns of editorial comment:

Clearings for March, 1904	$13,402,371 45
Clearings for March, 1903	12,296,302 82
Increase	$1,106,068 63

The figures for the first three months of the year are equally interesting:

First three months, 1904	$42,546,163 44
First three months, 1903	39,352,693 64
Increase	$3,193,469 80

CANDIDATE CROP RECORD BREAKER

Several Georgia Counties Report a Great Output.

In Troup, Banks, Habersham and Other Counties There Are Many Aspirants for the Various Offices, And All Are Exceedingly Active.

West Point, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The political campaign of democratic candidates for county offices to be nominated at the primary on April 11, has been more warmly waged this year than at any time in the past of West Point.

The geographical location of the town, being divided by the state line of Georgia and Alabama, and being at the meeting point of three counties, makes it a place where many candidates gather to solicit votes. On the Alabama side candidates for congressman and circuit judge for the fifth district, and every county office from judge of probate down to the smallest office are in the race. A total of fifty-five candidates are in the field seeking votes to nominate themselves in the democratic primary. On the Georgia side, forty-three candidates for the various county and district political offices are shaking hands with the Georgia voters here, and with about twenty-five candidates in Harris county occasionally mingling with their friends here keeps local politics well stirred up.

The majority of the candidates do not know which of the townsmen are Georgians or Alabamians, and are kept busy greeting both rather than miss the ones they desire support from. Very few of the many candidates in the field are from here, and the heavy vote cast here makes this a very popular field for working.

The most interest is centered in the race for judge of probate of Chambers county, and a very strong fight is being waged against the incumbent. Until a short time ago there were six men in the race for this office, but at a meeting held the past week three of them withdrew in the race in favor of the strongest candidate to defeat the present office holder.

Until the day of the primary the many office seekers will keep politics the main topic.

POLITICS IN BANK COUNTY.

Contests Between the Various Candidates Are Likely.

Contests for the various offices will be very lively.

Homer, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The democratic executive committee was reorganized on this instant, and called the county primary on April 2d, to be held under the rules and regulations as adopted by the committee. The candidates are as follows:

For Senator—Pierce Mann and Mr. P. F. McEver.

For Representative—Dr. W. I. Harden, against present incumbent and E. L. Duckett.

For Ordinary—Thomas F. Hill, who has held the office for twenty-four years, and who will not be opposed by Professor R. C. Alder, who is the present county supt.

As yet no one is announced to succeed C. A. Mees, clerk.

Treasurer W. Morris will not likely have any opposition.

Tax Assessor N. Dowdy is being opposed by H. Boden, of Alt.

Tax Collector George W. Wey is being opposed by Robert Perkins.

Sheriff John Rylie is opposed by George M. Bailey.

At the recent mass meeting Hon. R. B. Russell was indorsed to succeed Chief Justice Simmons.

At the recent term of superior court the grand jury acted as members of the board of education for the ensuing four years, Chas W. Meadors and James W. Scott, to succeed William H. Crump and Alonzo Thompson.

BOILING POT IN HABERSHAM.

Political Rain the County Are Exceedingly Warm.

Toccoa, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Politics in Habersham county is warming up to the boiling point. The race for congress, since Tate's return from Washington, has been considerably enlivened. The friends of Dr. Watkins, Mr. Bell and Mr. Hare are active. Mr. Tate's circular letter written from Washington to his friends throughout the district and received here a few days ago has made him many friends.

There is a cornered race on for the legislature, C. G. A. Cooper, of Toccoa, a Mexican and confederate veteran, was the first to announce. Not long since Mr. J. Edwards, a prominent attorney of Clarkesville, entered the race. Judge Grant of Clarkesville made his announcement during the recent term of the superior court of this county. Mr. Grant is a rising young attorney recently admitted to the bar. Only a few days ago Hon. D. Hill, for many years the ordinary of Habersham, shied his castor into the ring. Judge Hill is another resident of Clarkesville and has many strong friends in the county.

Hon. John Peyton, member of the present house of representatives, has as yet the only race for the senate. However, it is said that he is to have opposition from two sources.

Habersham will have a consolidated primary on April 2.

The race on Judge T. J. Simmons and Judge B. Russell for chief justice of supreme court is creating considerable interest.

STATE GOSSIP CAUGHT IN CAPITOL CORRIDORS

JUDSON M. STRICKLAND of Griffin who is running for prison commissioner against Chairman Joseph S. Turner, called at the office of the prison commission yesterday and had quite a chat with his opponent. So far as was apparent, there was no special object in the visit outside of a desire to indulge in a little pleasant conversation relative to the race and matters in general. Judge Turner and Mr. Strickland talked some about the race and some about other matters, but it is stated there were no propositions made.

Mr. Strickland was asked yesterday about the report that he contemplated withdrawing from the race. He said it was emphatically false and that he proposed to remain to the end.

Justice Evans Sworn In.

Judge Beverly D. Evans was sworn in by Governor Terrell yesterday as associate justice of the supreme court to succeed Associate Justice Henry G. Turner whose resignation took effect at the close of yesterday's labors. When he had taken the oath Justice Evans was given his commission which expires January 1, 1909, this being the remainder of the term for which the late Associate Justice Samuel Lumpkin was elected.

Justice Turner has completed the work in which he was associated with the court and will leave the city today for Quitman, his home.

Justice Evans gave up his work on the superior court bench of the middle circuit about two weeks ago and was succeeded there by Judge A. F. Daly, of Wrightsville, who was appointed by Governor Terrell. Justice Evans will go on the supreme bench this morning where he will be warmly welcomed by his associates.

Let Them Go Uninstructed.

Hon. Charles L. Davis, representative from Meriwether county, was in the city yesterday.

"Which one of the Parker clubs have you joined?" he was asked.

"Neither one of them," he replied, "nor do I propose to. While I favor a strong, conservative candidate, it is my opinion that Georgia should send an uninstructed delegation to St. Louis. We cannot expect to accomplish anything by sending a delegation that is bound hand and foot. Our delegation should be in a position to do the right thing, no matter what turns up. As for those opposition Parker clubs and the fuss they are creating, why, that is mere child's play."

Boykin Wright Talks.

The Augusta Chronicle prints the following interview with Hon. Boykin Wright relative to his running mates in the race for the legislature from Richmond county:

"I esteem myself most fortunate to be associated on the same ticket with the Hon. Martin V. Calvin and the Hon. C. E. Dunbar.

"Mr. Calvin is the veteran legislator of Georgia and there stands to his credit today more useful, practical statutes bearing his name than attaches in state legislation to that of any other man of recent times. In years of service he is the father of the house, and no man's views upon public questions are shown more respect and consideration and given greater weight. He is a splendid parliamentarian, a fluent talker, an industrious and conscientious worker on committees, a faithful attendant upon all the sessions of the house and committees, in short he is an experienced, conservative and able law maker. Richmond county could do no better than to keep Calvin there as long as he is willing to serve her in this capacity.

"As to Dunbar, I regard him as one of the most brilliant young lawyers and one of the most promising young statesmen, not only in this city, but in this district. Hon. Pleasant A. Stovall, who is serving with him in the present legislature, recently remarked to me that Dunbar was recognized as one of the foremost young men of the house and one of the most popular. If elected I predict he will be chosen speaker pro tem. and at the succeeding legislature, speaker of the house, once more giving to Richmond the honor so worthily worn by Hon. W. H. Fleming and Hon. Joseph B. Cumming.

"Yes, I am proud of my running mates. With their experience to guide me, if our ticket should be chosen, we would stand pledged to do our best to restore this grand old county to the place it once held in the councils of the commonwealth when represented by such men as Fleming, Jackson, Mays, Lamar, the Cummings, father and son, or going further back when Charles J. Jenkins and Andrew J. Miller, honored and illustrated this constituency in the legislative halls of the state. We would not aspire to equal them, but we could and would have them as our ideals and seek to emulate their virtues."

Several Politicians Here.

Several well-known Georgia politicians put in appearance yesterday in the lobby of the Kimball. Among them were Hon C. S. Reid, of Putnam, who is making the race for the senatorship from the thirty-sixth district, Hon. Harry C. Fisher, of Newnan, who expects to go as a delegate to St. Louis from the fourth congressional district, Hon. A. C. Blalock, of Clayton, candidate for senator from the thirty-fifth district; Hon. J. J. Flynt, of Spalding, candidate for the speakership of the next house of representatives; Hon. Judson M. Strickland, of Griffin, and Hon. J. R. Hosch, of Jackson.

Mr. Reid, of Putnam, is chairman of the ways and means committee of the present house. He said he did not know of anything at present that would come before his committee with the exception of the general tax bill. Some proposed legislation relating to a change in the method of arbitrating corporation tax returns is anticipated, but many members seem to think this matter will not be determined by the present legislature.

Companies on Probation.

Several military companies have been put on probation and the disbandment of others has been recommended as the result of the inspections now in progress by Colonel W. G. Obear, inspector general of state troops, and Colonel F. H. French, of the Sixteenth United States infantry.

The companies which have been put on probation and given until May 1 in which to make a showing, are the Chatham Artillery, of Savannah, the oldest artillery company in the United States of continuous organization, commanded now by Captain George P. Walker, and company C, First infantry, Swainsboro, commanded by Captain C. H. Thompson.

Colonel Obear has recommended the disbandment of company B, Third infantry, Augusta, commanded by Second Lieutenant C. B. Sledge. He has also recommended the disbandment of company C, First battalion infantry, colored, and the Georgia Artillery, of Savannah, also a colored organization. These companies recommended for disbandment are given ten days in which to make a showing.

Colonel Obear and Major French will conclude their inspections of the state troops on April 29. The Atlanta troops will be inspected the latter part of the month. When the inspections have been completed Colonel Obear will make a complete report to the governor.

Still Needs $3,700.

The Georgia commissioners who have in charge the matter of constructing the Georgia building at the St. Louis exposition are still in need of $3,700 to complete their fund of $20,000, which will be necessary to pay all expenses connected with the construction, furnishing and maintenance of the building during the exposition. They urge that those communities which have not yet contributed hold meetings for the purpose of adding their share to the fund. All subscriptions should be sent to Commissioner of Agriculture O. B. Stevens, who is treasurer for the fund.

Holder for Speaker.

Hon. H. W. Bell, of Jefferson county, who was here yesterday, said that Hon. John N. Holder, of Jackson, would not run for congress, as had been rumored, but that he and Dr. Hardeman would return to the legislature without opposition.

"Mr. Holder's friends," said Mr. Bell, "are urging him to enter the race for the speakership of the next house, and while he has reached no conclusion in the matter, I am of the opinion that he will decide to enter the race."

PLANS ARE MADE FOR ANNUAL HUNT

Children Will Be at Grant Park Tomorrow Afternoon.

Park Board Will Have Concealed 28,000 Colored Eggs, and Some of Them Will Entitle Their Finders to Valuable Prizes.

Arrangements are rapidly being completed for the annual Easter egg hunt of the board of park commissioners, which is to be given tomorrow afternoon at Grant park.

Dr. W. B. Armstrong, president of the park board of the municipality, has purchased 28,000 eggs, which are now being boiled and colored and which will be taken to the park early tomorrow morning. They will be concealed during the morning by the workmen at the park and will be placed where they may easily be found by the children with a little exertion.

In order that the children may not be allowed to trample upon the flower beds in the park or injure the tender young plants that have been transplanted from the hot houses for the summer, the board of park commissioners wishes it plainly stated that no eggs will be concealed near the plants or near the flower beds. Children will not be permitted to trample upon the flowers. In all other places, however, they will be allowed to go, and this is the only rule that will govern them after they have once been admitted to the grounds.

The children are expected to assemble at the Cherokee avenue and South Boulevard entrances to the park during the early afternoon, but they will not be permitted to enter the grounds. This is done for obvious reasons. Police Chief John W. Ball has detailed a special squad of his men for the afternoon's work and they will be on duty first at the entrance to the park and later inside the grounds. They will, of course, not be expected to arrest any of the children and it is safe to say that all of the children who go to the park for the purpose of participating in the pleasures of the afternoon will be free from detention by the policemen.

They will, however, endeavor to prevent the children from entering the park until the signal which has been agreed upon is given and after the egg hunt commences it will be their endeavor to prevent the children from being injured or lost.

Care for Children.

All children who lose their parents or guardians will be taken by the policemen to the room of the board of park commissioners in the refreshment stand, and all mothers or guardians who lose their children will find them there. Members of the board of park commissioners will be present in the room to take care of the children until they are reclaimed by those who have lost them.

Not until 2 o'clock in the afternoon will the signal be given for the egg hunt. When that hour arrives the children will be free to make the usual rush for the park grounds. The signal will be the first strains of "Dixie." The band will be stationed in the usual stand from which it will be possible to hear the first sound of the music. The first notes of the famous southern air will be sounded exactly at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The number of prize eggs that will be concealed in the park this year is attracting considerable attention and will doubtless have the effect of drawing a larger number of children than usual to the egg hunt. One of the eggs will entitle its finder to one dozen photographs; two eggs will each be good for one-half dozen photographs; one egg will be good for a 5-pound box of candy and fifty eggs will each be good for one glass of soda water.

The number of eggs that will be placed in the park this year is larger than usual. For that reason all of the children will have several eggs and there will be no reason for disappointing any of the little tots.

The usual large crowd of grows-ups will doubtless be at the park for the purpose of witnessing the enjoyment of the children.

SWITCH ENGINE KILLS DARNELL

Little Dwarf Run Over and Killed Yesterday Morning.

While returning home for his breakfast after disposing of his papers, Francis M. Darnell, a familiar figure to every one living in Atlanta, and well known as "Old Man Darnell," was run over by a switch engine of the Atlanta and West Point railroad on the Georgia road.

His body was dragged under the wheels of the engine and dreadfully mangled. Both legs were amputated just below the knees, and his skull was fractured. He was also injured in several other ways.

According to Coroner Stamps, who investigated the case, no one witnessed the accident, and consequently it was impossible to state how it happened. The body was dragged by the train for about 60 feet.

F. M. Darnell left his home about 8 o'clock in the morning and came into the city to purchase papers. He bought the papers, and after disposing of them, started to his home, 8 Savannah street. He reached the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills in safety.

A side track runs to the factory in order that cars may be loaded there. This track crosses Badger street. A switch engine of the Atlanta and West Point was backing out on this track just as the old man started to cross the street.

His sight has been bad for several years, and it is probable that he did not see or hear the train, and was struck and killed before he became conscious of his danger.

Coroner Stamps was at once notified of the death, and at the same time the wife and sons of the deceased were informed of the accident. After an investigation of the case, the jury decided that he came to his death by being run over by a switch engine of the Atlanta and West Point on the Georgia track, and that the death was accidental.

F. M. Darnell was one of the most familiar figures on the streets of Atlanta, and was well known by every one in the city. For years he has lived in Atlanta and earned his living by selling papers on the streets and doing little jobs.

He was only 3 feet 6 inches in height, and attracted universal attention wherever he went. He wore a long gray beard.

For the last fifteen years he has been living in Atlanta and supporting himself and his family by selling papers on the streets. He had been married for many years, and leaves a wife and four children, two of whom are dwarfs like himself. They are Lee Darnell, Frank Darnell and Monroe Darnell, and his daughter, Mrs. Busby, of East Point.

The deceased was 71 years old. He was born in Milledgeville, Ga. The funeral services will occur at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the residence, 8 Savannah street, and the interment will be at Sylvester.

New York, March 31.—Advices from Yokohama are to the effect that Daniel Bacon, Jr., the 21-year-old son of a New York capitalist, has committed suicide there by shooting. Bacon's death was announced here March 11 as being due to pneumonia. He was in Japan in search of health.

It is now said that while attending a birthday party with thirty or forty friends he suddenly complained of illness, and stepped into an adjoining room and shot himself.

MAYOR WILL SIGN FOR PROBATION

Ordinance Creating Children's Court Will Become Law.

City Attorney Mayson Will Rule That Measure Should Not Have Been Held Up by Notice of Motion To Reconsider.

The probation ordinance will become a law of the city and will be put into operation during the course of the next few weeks.

This is assured by two facts—the first being that Mayor Howell will give his approval to the measure, and the second is that City Attorney James L. Mayson will rule during the session of council next Monday afternoon that it was illegal to hold up the measure with notice of a motion to reconsider.

The opinion of the city attorney will, of course, not be given unless it is called for, but it will without doubt be requested. He will base it upon he fact that the charter of the municipality provides that notice of a motion to reconsider may be given upon a measure which requires separate action by council and the aldermanic board. Separate action is required only upon ordinances which grant franchises or which involve the expenditure of the money of the city.

As the probation ordinance that was adopted during the last session of council does not do either of these things the city attorney will rule that notice of a motion to reconsider it should not have been given.

The fact that Mayor Howell will give the measure his approval was assured after he had been interviewed by sixteen ladies, who called at his office yesterday morning and urged him to give the measure his approval.

There was some doubt about the ordinance receiving the approval of Mayor Howell. He was not well grounded in the belief that it would work well in Atlanta.

The ladies who have from the start been interested in the movement to create a children's court in Atlanta and place those who are arrested upon probation, learned of this, and called yesterday morning upon Mayor Howell in his office. He surrendered to them after they had presented their arguments and gave to them his unqualified statement that when the measure reached his desk he would give it his approval.

The ordinance is that one which came from the ordinance committee, Councilman Hynds, chairman, with a favorable report. It provides that the recorder of the city is to hold a special court for the benefit of children who are arrested. It also provides that there be separate detention wards at the police barracks where the children may be kept, if necessary, before they are brought to trial.

After hearing the evidence in their cases, the recorder may, if he believes the child will be benefited, suspend sentence and continue doing so until he is convinced that the child has reformed. If he finds that the child is incorrigible he may bind him over as he does now and have him sent to the county reformatory by the regular courts.

The ladies, ministers and many others of the city have been very much interested in the ordinance and the announcement that it will surely become one of the laws of the municipality will be learned by them with considerable gratification.

Following are the ladies who interviewed Mayor Howell yesterday morning:

Mrs. John K. Ottley, Mrs. W. P. Patillo, Mrs. R. E. Park, Mrs. W. G. Raoul, Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, Mrs. W. M. Scott, Mrs. J. P. Averill, Mrs. James Gilbert, Mrs. D. B. YOUNG MAN USES KNIFE.

Perry Rutledge Stabbed Yesterday by Ed Henry at Block's Candy Factory.

Perry Rutledge, a young white man, was stabbed in the left side yesterday about noon at Block's candy factory by Ed Henry, another young white man.

Rutledge is in the Grady hospital, where it is announced that his wound is not considered serious. Henry made his escape and the police are now looking for him. Henry is employed at the candy factory and Rutledge also formerly worked there. The latter was at the factory yesterday and it is stated that Henry threw some flour dust on him through a window. Rutledge is said to have used an epithet to Henry, when the latter went outside and stabbed him.

The police station was notified and Call Officer Abbott responded. Henry, however, could not be found. Officer Abbott sent Rutledge to the hospital. The wounded man resides at 65 Leach street and Henry boards at 69 West Pine street.

It's the young man—the dressy man—who catches the "fine points" of the suit. The little details, which the tailor himself sometimes allows to pass by, never escape him, and there you have the reason for his "smart appearance." It's the details which count. This is pre-eminently the "Young Man's Store"—the store for careful buyers.

Accident on Ship Injures Two.

Newbern, N. C., March 31.—A telephone message received here tells of a steam pipe exploding on the steamer Sarah Louise, Captain Mark Fulcher, near Pitch Kettle, up Neuse river, 22 miles from Newbern. One negro, surnamed Washington, was scalded to death and another negro was so frightened that he jumped overboard and drowned. His name was not stated. The steamer was still able to travel under her own steam and is now on the way to Newbern. The ship is owned by Ellis Williams, of Newbern, who is himself her engineer.

As he trudges off on Easter Sunday he will feel larger self-confidence, more bouyant and experience a keener appreciation of his possibilities, if WELL DRESSED.

The shabby youngster is a pathetic figure anywhere. Spare him the embarrassment of indulging in involuntary comparisons that discredit his own personal appearance. It costs you so little and means so much to him.

SOCIETY

The Country Club.

IT was a veritable spring day at the Country Club yesterday and in the afternoon the terrace of the little club house was the scene of several congenial parties, the women wearing the smartest of Easter toilets and with their escorts enjoying the delicious atmosphere.

Colonel Lowry's coaching party was assembled there at 5 o'clock, his guests of honor Miss Adele Schafer and her fiance, Mr. Eugene Berkey Jones. Of the party besides Colonel and Mrs. Lowry, Miss Schaefer and Mrs. Jones, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis, Miss Jennie English, Miss Isma Dooly, Miss Bertha Schaefer, Mr. Charles Crankshaw, Mr. Fulton Colville, Mr. F. P. Gamble.

Mrs. Lowry's gown was an imported creation in old English pink voile, its trimming of applique lace and a touch of black.

Mrs. Ellis wore a handsome toilet in dark blue foulard, showing white flowers, the corsage finished with a touch of corn colored silk.

Miss Schaefer was beautiful in rose colored foulard silk and lace. Miss Bertha Schaefer's stylish gown was of dark blue velvet. Miss English wore pale gray cloth and lace.

Mr. John D. Settle had an elegant luncheon for Miss Gray and Captain Pierce at the club at 2 o'clock, the party assembling afterwards on the club terrace.

Miss Gray was prettily gowned in heliotrope silk, her white hat trimmed in heliotrope flowers.

Miss Louise Gay was enthusiastically admired in a walking gown of lavender linen, with hat to harmonize. Miss Sarah Pell wore with an elegant brown velvet gown, a corsage of corn colored silk, and a hat combining the same colors.

Miss Janie Speer was the center of attraction in another group, wearing a walking gown of white linen, and a broad brimmed white sailor.

CHILD KILLED BY FAST MAIL

Death Occurred in Sight of Mother and Sister.

In the sight of his mother and sister, little Guy Barnes, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes, met his death Wednesday afternoon in East Decatur.

The little boy had been out in the yard playing and having a good time. The mother and the sister were on the porch watching him as he strolled around.

Finally becoming tired of the yard, he left it, and crossed the railroad track, and for some time amused himself on the other side. Finnally, having tired of his sport, he turned toward his home and started to cross the track.

Just as he reached the track he heard the sharp whistle of the fast mail train of the Georgia road as it whistled for the water tank. With childish curiosity, he paused a moment, while his agonized mother and sister, alive to the danger that threatened him, called to him to come across at once.

That one moment of curiosity was fatal. The next moment the engine was upon him and the big pointed pilot struck him squarely in the face, mutilating his features and rendering him unrecognizable. His limbs were broken and there was no possible hope for his life.

The engine had been running at a slow rate of speed, but it was too near the child to stop when the danger became apparent. As soon as the accident occurred the train stopped.

Miss Hattie Barnes, the sister of the little boy, was the first to reach him. He was taken into the house and died at 7 o'clock Wednesday night.

The funeral service will occur at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence and the interment will be fn Decatur.

IN THE COURTS.

The contract for the new steel bridge over the Chattahoochee river at Mason and Turner's ferry was let yesterday afternoon to the Carolina Steel Bridge and Construction Company, of Burlington, N. C., the contract price being $10,170.

Judge E. B. Rosser, chairman of the Fulton county commissioners, called for bids at noon yesterday. There were quite a number of bidders present, and for a time the bidding was quite lively. The next lowest bid to that of the successful company was offered by the Southern Bridge Company, of Birmingham, Ala. There were nine bidders in all.

Work will be commenced on the structure at once, and under the terms of the contract it must be complete by October 1 next. The bridge will open up an extensively used highway to Douglas and Cobb counties. Heretofore there has been no means of crossing the river at this point save by ferry.

The will of T. H. Northen was yesterday filed for probate in the office of Ordinary John R. Wilkinson. The document was filed by Mrs. Mattie T. Northen, widow of the tastator, and executrix and heir as well. It will be probated in common form on Monday.

A rather unique habeas corpus suit was yesterday filed in the superior court by Henry Walker, attorney for Thomas Goings, a felony convict leased by the Chattahoochee Brick Company. Goings was convicted and sentenced January 23, 1901, on two charges. The first sentence was for two years, and the second for three years. As it was not stated in the sentences that the second sentence was to be operative only at the expiration of the first, it is now claimed that Goings served the two sentences simultaneously. Judge Lumpkin set the case for a hearing on April 6.

Mrs. Nettie Baker yesterday filed suit for divorce against her husband, Robert Baker, alleging cruel treatment. The husband consented to an order requiring him to pay $30 a month alimony pending the trial of the case. The suit was filed by Culberson, Willingham & Johnson.

Application for a charter for the United States Rail Joint Company, a manufacturing concern, was yesterday filed in the office of Arnold Broyles, clerk of the superior court. The petitioners are R. H. Brown, W. Z. McElroy, J. F. Rose and L. M. Rose. The capital stock will be $5,000, with the privilege of increasing this to $50,000. The application was filed by duBignon & Alston.

STEEL TRUST FILES ANSWER.

In Formal Bill Asks That Stevens Petition Be Dismissed.

Trenton, N. J., March 31.—The United States Steel Corporation, through its counsel today, filed in the court of chancery a demurrer to the bill of Alfred Stevens, of Newark, who sued the corporation because of its passage of dividends on the common stock.

Stevens in his bill claims the corporation had made sufficient earnings and that it was compelled under a state law by its own by-laws to pay the dividend. He asked among other things that the corporation be required to disclose its earnings so that the court might pass on the matter.

The demurrer is purely formal. It says the bill of Stevens does not show such a case as entitled him in a court of equity to any relief against the matter complained of in such bill. It is asked that the demurrer be sustained and that Stevens' bill be dismissed.

Honest Facts

A Glance Backward--A Look Forward

Accurate Figures

1896--What Has Been Accomplished in Eight Years--1904
Eight Years Ago the Fog Lifted and Light Dawned

Then

Eight years ago we wrote of our impending change. "It will make the music for the trade—march of of the years—double quick step." and it did. The swing of the movement begun here at that time has kept on at double quick throughout all the years that have passed. With the same stride the business movement continues to cross the unseen boundary that marks the border of other years.

In 1896

We employed 48 helpers. The store contained just 34,200 square feet of floor space.
The sales were about

$225,000.00

In 1903

We employed 316 helpers. The store contained just 99,000 square feet of floor space.
The sales were exactly

$884,679.17

Now

Eight years ago dreams and visions. Now facts. But the present facts are greater than the hopes of our eight-year gone dreams.
Realization surpasses anticipation. The perfect plans for showing, selling, wrapping and delivering the goods worked well.
Ceaseless activity is the keynote here. Each working day brings its own mission. Old straw is not threshed in our machine. Hence the tireless push.

Eight years ago we punctured the old tradition and doomed the ancient practice of marking prices in mysterious symbols, secret characters and topsy-turvy scratches. In their places came the bold, clear, plain figures. The change was radical but thoroughly in harmony with the "reformation" that swept through the store. Fortune had a smile for the firm that dared. We dared. We were among the coterie of the R. V. Winkles, and other pre-historic dealers who slept during the hot summer months. When we woke up and rubbed our eyes and changed a period of accepted inertia into a period of business ferment the entire Sleepy Hollow species looked on in tired surprise. Time has shown that we knew what we were about.

The business has grown to be a law unto itself. To follow others would be weakness. Originality and courage create large enterprise. This store and its ways should be studied and understood. People who best know the store are largest gainers by its policy.

You are familiar with our purpose of perfect accuracy in advertising. Whatever it may lack in brilliancy is fully made up for in truthfulness. When one who knows reads the daily advertising his hopes for humanity decline. The remedy is with the buyers. They could compel truth-telling for long in advertising by withholding custom for a single week. Will they?

But trade standards are improving, if ever so slowly. We'll try to keep to facts. Tell us when you think we are in error.

Evolution in Trade Makes Entirely New Conditions. Recent Conditions Amount to Practical Revolution.

We Recognize the Revolution as Dictating our Business Policy. In One Way or Another this Advertisement has a Direct Presonal Interest for Almost Everybody Who Buys Merchandise.

For eight years this store has always been different from any other in Atlanta. From today it will be different from any other store in the whole world. A sense of public ownership pervades it. An affinity exists between the store and the people that produces reciprocity. It is the finest tribute to the policy of the business. And now we'll do that, which to our knowledge, has never been done in the history of retailing---take the public really and truly and completely into our confidence by Printing Each Day's Sales in the Papers.

Our fiscal year begins and ends with February. Therefore we make public the volume of sales for February and March of 1903 and 1904. They are as follows:

February 1903, $44,003.53 March 1903, $70,294.92
February 1904, $55,981.77 March 1904, $98,544.71

Tomorrow's papers will contain our sales for today. We state precisely how small they are, so that we may command your active interest in the pleasant and mutually profitable effort to make each succeeding day's sales larger.

H. S. Johnson Ed. R. DuBose

Eight years ago we started the Reformation Period in retailing. Old, mothy, moss-grown conditions were sharply reversed. Progress took root and has controlled ever since. Solid, square-dealing truth compels us to confess that we were, as much as any other firm, responsible for the mugginess of the system that then prevailed.

However, we had the fine, quick perception to catch the spirit of modern methods and apply it.

So confident were we of the proper foundation principle of our business that eight years ago we began what no one else ever did, as a rule, in Atlanta—take back goods, cut or uncut, and return the money without a controversy.

Firm as a rock we stand by our customers every day and protect them on prices and qualities, inviting and urging return of anything unsatisfactory. Not seeking unnecessary trouble for ourselves or our customers by having to take back goods, we watch closely the current prices and mark everything to meet every permanently changed condition.

Therefore most assuredly the prices here may be relied upon as always the very lowest, quality considered, and if by accident a mistake should be made—we are not infallible—a postal card giving facts, or a personal statement, will be accepted as a special favor. Customers are begged to never keep anything that is for any reason unsatisfactory.

BUYING THROUGH FRIENDS

New York Closed 14 to 26 Points Higher — New Orleans Closed Steady 10 to 34 Points Up—Spot Cotton Firmly Held.

New York, March 31.—The cotton opened firm at an advance of 8@17 points on covering and some buying for long account apparently promoted by higher Liverpool cables than expected and continued light movement. There was some irregularity and occasional periods of reaction, but these were comparatively limited, both in duration and scope, and the market as a whole ruled steady to firm all day, closing steady 8 to 10 points down from the top on some positions on room realizing, but at a net gain of 14 to 26 points. At the best May sold at 15.12 and July at 15.33, net gains of 30 to 33 points. Sales were estimated at only 250,000 bales. The trading seemed to be mostly of an evening up character, but sentiment appeared to be bullish and the gossip on the floor had a very bullish average. It was rumored, for instance, that the late bull leader had reentered the market through friends, buying May and July in large blocks on a scalp from about 14.50 and 14.75, and there was also some talk to the effect that a Wall stret operator, who has recently been believed to have been operating on the short side, had covered his sales and gone long. In addition to this there were reports of an improved spot demand after the holidays and private advices indicated some sales of spot cotton at New Orleans

Port receipts for the day were rather heavier than expected, but the interior movement remained very light, amounting to only about half of last year's, and the bulls claimed that the heavier port receipts were due to a better demand for export, and was also at the expense of stocks at counted interior towns. On the other hand, accounts from the dry goods district continued very unfavorable, the demand for cotton products remaining, according to public reports, on a strictly hand-to-mouth basis with spinners evidently preparing to make extensive curtailments.

The New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, March 31.—Spot cotton firm and higher. The inquiry from exporters was good, but factors as a rule refused to sell at board figures. Sales 3,050 bales, including 2,200 to arrive and 650 f. o. b.; delivered on contract 1,000. Quotations advanced 5-16.

Futures were surprisingly active and firm and prices made good advances. This was due to unexpectedly favorable Liverpool cables and a marked improvement in the spot demand. No one expected that any spot trading would result until after the holidays. Shorts did not like the looks of the market and they covered freely, sending prices up on themselves. At the opening prices were from 13 to 21 points higher. The demand was good, while offerings were light. There appeared to be no short sellers in the market, offerings coming almost entirely from liquidating longs. All offerings were readily absorbed. In the trading May opened at 15.16, advanced to 15.30 and finally receded to 15.23. The market closed steady. Net gains were on April 34 points, May, June and July each 24, August 15 and the new crop months 10 to 13 points.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, march 31.—The dry goods market has not changed from the stagnant condition which has been prevalent for so long. There are those who look for a change before long from those manufacturers who are compelled to realize on their product. Few buyers are in town, and those who are here are not interested except for immediate delivery.

The Howell Jones Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, March 31.—Cotton futures in the local market today opened firm in tone with the first prices showing an advance of 8 to 17 points. The demand early in the day came largely from shorts, although there was a fair line of buying from spot interests. Room traders, the bulls especially, made the most of their position and worked unceasingly to create a strong market. Liverpool advices were better than looked for, and telegrams from the south regarding exhaustion of supplies in the interior were very strong, and served to cause a drop in the confidence of the bears. On the better levels there seemed to be quite a lot of cotton for sale and moderate pressure served to reduce optimism in some circles, with the result that a reaction ensued. The trade became less active as the day wore on and the fluctuations narrowed down considerably. Sentiment was bullish and the undertone of the market for the most part was quite satisfactory to the longs. There was a lot of evening up in view of the holidays' Outsiders, through commission houses, did little, and the south was not disposed to take on fresh ventures. Foreign business was slow, and the cables were without special feature, so far as their review on the general situation was concerned. The advices from Texas with regard to the crop conditions were not materially changed, although the weather map was considered favorable for the starting of the crop in the southwestern districts. We are partial to the long side of the account for a turn, but advise taking moderate profits. In the last hour there was a liberal line of profit-taking, which brought about some recessions in values. There was an inclination among longs to take their profits rather than carry their holdings over the Easter holidays.

Bruce & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Atlanta, March 31.—Liverpool cables came in quite strong this morning, showing a gain of 3 to 8 points, and a further gain of 7 to 11 points by their closing time. This strength was noted on this side by advances of 6 to 15 points on the opening, and while the session was very tame and prices confined in narrow ranges, the undertone was the strongest of some days. There seemed little disposition to make commitments on either side, pending the double holiday, and this naturally caused the listless action of the market. The low points for the day came out on the opening and soon afterwards, being from 1 to 3 points down on some and unchanged on others from the first sales. The prices gradually worked higher, and around the noon hour were selling 7 to 21 points better than the fowest, but realizing by those who did not wish to be in the market over the holidays broke prices, and the close was strong at 1 to 9 points below the high level. The volume of business done was in the nearby positions, the later ones showing a very narrow range. We look for a gathering of strength over the holidays and think cotton will go higher the first of next week.

Cothran & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, March 31.—As compared with by far the greater majority of events heretofore this season, developments of the past few days have proved of a rather uninteresting nature and lacking those sensational and exciting characteristics that have been of absorbing interest. The net result of four days' business has been to reveal the strength of the cotton position. After the sharp advance to 15¼c following the census report the market broke to 14¾c, and then recovered to 15¼c. The reaction was quite to be expected after the extensive advance, but the steady improvement in the face of opposition by several of the more important interests in the local market can be taken as revealing a stronger cotton position than the most enthusiastic regarded as possible at this time. Trading has been along narrow lines, the outside interest is very small and the majority of professionals are inclined to be bearish in their attitude. Short sellers have been compelled to buy in cotton at an absence of those profits that bears like to see. All of which goes to show that however unattractive the situation may be to buyers, it is extremely dangerous to short cotton this season. Looking over the cotton position broadly, the outlook is certainly bewildering. It is all well enough for some of the mill owners and dealers in spot cotton to say that consumption can not go on at 15c a pound. But with Liverpool stocks the smallest since the civil war and the interior movement almost nothing, it is an open question whether the larger mills can really close up shop and throw employees out of work and stop machinery. The next few months in the cotton market will be traveling through an unknown country with no landmarks to guide the voyager, and there is no one old enough or experienced enough in the cotton business to say that 15c is going to stop production of manufactured goods, leaving the world to go naked. People have got to be clothed, whether cotton sells at 10c, 15c or 20c a pound. If the census report is anywhere near correct, the question of price is not likely to enter into the problem. Under the circumstances, we can not but continue our attitude on the same side of the account prevailing heretofore this season, and while advising caution, we believe cotton should not be sold short, but purchased on good breaks.

WHEAT OPENED IN ACTIVE DEMAND

Firm Cables and Strength of Cash Situation Main Faors.

SHORTS COVERED FREELY

Reports of General Rains in Central and Western Kansas Caused Decline—All Markets Closed Practically Unchanged from Previous Close

Chicago, March 31.—Rain in western and central Kansas had a counterbalancing influence on the wheat mark today, offsetting firm cables and strength in cash grains. Closing prices in all pits were unchanged.

In spite of reports of additional rain in the southwest, there was temporarily an active demand for wheat at the pening. The principal influences were firm cables and the strength of the cash situation. The market opened firm with July up ½@¾c to ¾c at 87⅜c to 87⅝@88c. The was considerable covering by shorts due to strength in corn. Receipts in the northwest were small, the decreased movement affording further inducement to bull traders to take on more wheat. Under these conditions July advanced to 88¾c. Later the rain that had attracted little attention earlier became an influential factor. Fresh reports of general rains in western and central Kansas, a region which has been the center of the drought district, came as a reinforcement to previous advices. The result was quite general selling with a considerable decline, July reaching to 87½c. Part of the selling was due to the fact that the board will be closed to morrow, many traders being disposed to even up over the holiday. The market made a recovery from the low point on covering by shorts and the close was about steady with July at 87⅝. May sold between 95¾@96⅝, closing at 96⅞c. Clearances equaled 68,700 bushels. Primary receipts were 29000, against 419,500 a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported 221 cars, against 331 last week and 245 a year ago.

The attitude of the leading longs was the feature of consideration in the corn pit early. The big holder was a moderate purchaser of July and many shorts considered it wise to cover May sales. The market held strong until late in the day, when a reaction occurred on profit taking by pit traders. The greater part of the early gain was lost and the market closed steady, about unchanged. July opened ⅛@¼c higher at 53¼@53¼c, sold between 52⅝@53½c and closed at 53¼@53¼c. May closed at 56½c. Receipts 1,100 cars, 19 contract.

The action of wheat and corn was the chief feature in trading in oats. The early market was strong on a fair commission house demand for May. Later there was quite liberal liquidation and the result was a loss of almost all the early gain. After opening a shade to ⅛@¼c higher at 39⅝@39½c, July ranged between 39¼@39⅜, closing at 39⅜. Receipts 100 cars.

A big run of hogs and lower prices caused weakness in provisions early. There was good buying on the decline, however, and the market quickly recovered. Shorts became quite active buyers late in the day, causing a firm close. July pork closed 12½c higher at $13.35, July lard 5c higher at $7.15 and ribs up 7½c at $7.07½.

The Howell Jones Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, March 31.—Wheat—There was considerable irregularity in the wheat market today. Early in the session reports of crop damage helped the bulls and brought about a substantial buying movement. Later there was a profit-taking by longs in view of the adjournment tomorrow, and a reaction ensued. The close in this were disposed to scap the market. The cables were strong, and there was quite a good cash situation. Export trade was slow and clearances were light. Northwest stocks showed an increase for the week thus far, and the primary movement showed moderate accumulation. The feeling on the close was rather mixed.

The corn market was quite sympathetic with wheat, but there were independent features which attracted the attention of the bulls. Argentina advices were extremely bullish; in fact, private cables were sensational, noting a reduction in the exportable surplus. The movement was light, and the condition of the roads indicated continued light receipts. Offerings increased somewhat on the better levels, but throughout the day there was a rather firm undertone. The operations of the clique elements attraded considerable attention, and it was evident that the Armours were adding to their lines. On the close the professionals were largely in control of the situation.

The strength of the cash sitation was a feature in oats. There was good demand on the lower levels and shorts were credited with buying along fairlines. The movement was moderate, and the exportables was small. Country reports were rather bullish.

Provisions—The hog receipts were heavy and indications pointed to continued heavy arrivals. Under the circumstances the holders of provisions were rather nervous and offerings were quite substantial. The cash trade was slow and the movement of product was narrow.

Miller & Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, March 31.—The wheat market was rather unsettled and on the whole dull. The morning advance was based on the strength in coarse grains, the small receipts everywhere, but more particularly at winter wheat points, and the strength in the outside markets. The holiday tomorrow and the suspension of business abroad until Monday and the forecast for more precipitation throughout the winter wheat belt created a strong desire on the part of longs to even up, and the whole list was sold off toward the close. The Liverpool market closed ¼d up.

Corn started off stronger and higher with a good trade, which gradually dwindled to almost nothing in the last hour. The support of the Armour party was given whenever needed. Reports would indicate a better movement through Illinois. Liverpool closed ¼d up.

Oats—There was considerable activity for a time in the oats pit. Buying was general and by commission houses based presumably on the wet weather. Demand for shipment very poor.

Provisions started weak on the heavy run of hogs here and at all western points. The buying on the break was largely by shorts, and was of a particularly good class in July pork. Offerings were small and more than a complete recovery was made before the close. Local receipts were 56,000, and the market at the yards from 10 to 15c lower.

Cothran & Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, March 31.—Wheat: The strength in corn was a bull help and started shorts to covering, but Armour brokers sold old July, while there was selling in a small way on trust company failures east, although the weakness could be ascribed to more favorable crop reports and a desire to close up trades over the holidays. There were favorable reports from Tennessee and Missouri, but shorts covered toward the close on export sales of eighteen loads at the seaboard and 25,000 bush

SOUTHERN GROUP AND SOFT COALERS

Were Among the Strong Stocks in Yesterday's Market.

TWO FAILURES REPORTED

Had a Chilling Effect on Speculation. Foreign Exchange Rate at Point Where Gold Shipments Would Show Margin of Profit.

New York, March 31.—The suspension of two trust companies—one in Cleveland and one in Boston—had a somewhat chilling effect on speculation today. The denials given to rumors of purchases of Union Pacific by St. Paul and to other reports which have circulated on the exchange were reinforced in their reactionary effect by the large distribution of stocks which was effected during the rise of yesterday and by the cessation of much of the demand today. There were points of strength in the market, but they are exceptions rather than the rule. The foreign exchange rate today was at the point where gold shipments would show a margin of profit, but owing to lack of shipping facilities, no gold is likely to go out until next week, when it is expected several millions will be shipped. The present abnormal ease of money in New York is undoubtedly due in part to the accumulation here of government deposits in preparation of the Panama canal payment. With conditions in the exchange market as at present, it is not probable that when the payment is made the proceeds will remain in New York. The strong stocks in today's market were among the southern group and the soft coalers, due to favorable reports of earnings. United States Steel reflected a more confident feeling over the preferred dividend. Covering of shorts rallied the market during the latter part of the day, but the closing was heavy.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $2,555,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Money on call easy at ½@¾ per cent, closing bid 1; offered at 1¾; time loans easy; 60 days 2¾@3; 90 days 3@3½; six months 3¾@4; prime mercantile paper 4½@5.

Sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87.30@4.87.35 for demand and at $4.84.75@4.85 for 60 days; posted rates $4.85@4.86½@4.88; commercial bills $4.84½@4.84⅝.

Bar silver 55¼c.

Mexican dollars 44c.

Government and railroad bonds steady.

L. J. Anderson's Cotton Letter.

New York, March 31.—Liverpool's opening was not up to expectations, in that the betterment was not a full response to the stength and advance in the local market yesterday. Spots showed an advance of 4 points with a limited demand, sales amounting to only 4,000 bales for middling uplands. As spinners' stocks in Liverpool are the smallest in many years, it is only a question of time when they will increase their demand regardless of price. It is quite a little while before the crop that the farmers are now preparing to plant can be picked, ginned and marketed. Its size does not cut any figure as to price of cotton now held for higher prices. It is almost a certainty they will get better figures for such cotton. The closing figures in Liverpool for futures were at a sharp advance, probably brought about by the better opening in the local market, which was 8 to 17 points higher on buying by spot interests, covering and full support on convincing evidence of exhaustion in the interior. A small decline followed the opening on some selling for profits. Trade was less active later, but the undertone was of bullish average. From the low point a gradual and healthy advance, apparently one that has come to stay, set in, and while there was some reaction near the close the market finished steady with prices 14 to 26 points higher, with the trade expecting better prices next week. The market will be closed Friday and Saturday. Port receipts today, 9,771, against 9,268 last year.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, March 31.—The market was quiet with the usual holiday indifference, though sellers were few and confined to profit taking. It looks as if buyers would come in on light receipts, if not today, then after the vacation. If spinners will buy, the bear side is dangerous. Their attitude will soon be shown. Prices here advance more easily than they decline, just now. But speculation is scotched by the late disaster. Still it is not killed by any means. The market was depressed during the afternoon by persistent offerings, but resisted the pressure and closed steady. There was but little inclination to follow the lead for lower prices, and the small receipts hold prices steady. The exchange will be closed till Monday. The spot market was dull at 20 points advance.

Miller & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, March 31.—The strength of todays' cotton market is the outcome of the true statistical position of the staple. In the face of the approaching holidays and the fact that this is Holy week, observed in both New Orleans and Liverpool, business has been very small, yet both the spot and future cotton markets have held firm and shown an advancing tendency. Receipts and movement continue very light, and are regarded as bullish. It is well-known that Liverpool and the continent are yet far behind in their supply of American cotton, and the fact that during light trade and the gradual closing up season of March preparatory to work in the new crop, the market has not declined, it is believed will stimulate better foreign business the coming week, and we look forward to more active market and advance in prices all around. On New York's close Liverpool is due to come 2 to 3 up on Tuesday next.

Miller & Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, March 31.—The volume of business on the stock exchange today underwent a decided shrinkage owing partly to the indisposition of operators to make important commitments over the Good Friday suspension. Some unfavorable effect also was produced by the announcement of the trust company failures in Boston. Otherwise the news of the day was without influential feature. London was a moderate buyer, but almost wholly for arbitrage purposes. The selling pressure was at no time pronounced, and the reactions which took place from early prices did not exceed the limits that would attach to an ordinary profit taking movement. Rumors associated with Union Pacific suggested new buyers of the stock, and it closed after a sharp rally with a net gain. The market closed generally firm.

Miller & Co.'s Coffee Letter.

New York, March 31.—The coffee market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 10 points with sales reported on the call of 3,000 bags. The steadiness was in response to better European cables than expected and what looked to be moderate covering by recent sellers, while offerings were decidedly limited. Private advices received late yesterday indicated a little easier tone to the Brazilian markets, but the only official recognition of such a development was a decline of 75 reis reported from Rio, while Santos was unchanged. The slight improvement in spot demand noted the last day or two does not appear to be increasing as had been expected.

And, thereupon, the said Union Savings Bank and Trust Company, as Trustee, at the request of the holders of a majority in amount of said bonds having on September 26th, 1903, declared the principal of said bonds to be due and the principal of said bonds having thereupon, under the terms of said trust deed become immediately due and payable, and formal notice having been given by the said Trustee to the said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company that the principal of said bonds had been declared to be due, and had thereupon become immediately due and payable; and demand for the payment of said interest so in default having been thereafter duly made at the principal office of said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company, and such default having continued for one month after said demand, and the right of said Trustee to enforce this lien for the entire sum of principal, interest due thereon, costs and expenses having thereupon accrued; and the said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company, after such notice and demand having failed to pay the principal or interest of said bonds after the same had so become due and been demanded as aforesaid, and still failing to pay the same up to this date;

Now, therefore, the said Union Savings Bank and Trust Company as Trustee aforesaid, will, on the first Tuesday in June, 1904, sell as an entirety, at public outcry at the Jackson street entrance of the City Hall, in the town of Barnesville, Pike County, Georgia, during the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder, for cash, or for said bonds, the whole of said premises, estates, rights, privileges and property by said deed of trust granted and conveyed or intended to be conveyed, with their appurtenances, and all benefit and equity of redemption, and all the right, title and interest of said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company of, in and to the following property, to-wit:

And also together with said several tracts of land and as appurtenant thereto the entire manufacturing plant of The Barnesville Manufacturing Company aforesaid which is located thereon, including all houses, outhouses, buildings, fences and improvements of every character which may be thereon, and all mills, engines, boilers, machinery, fixtures, furniture and other equipment; tools and vehicles now belonging to said mill or appurtenant thereto; and also all additional machinery and appliances that have from time to time been placed in said mill either for original use or to replace such as from time to time have become worn and not suited to the purposes of the said plant, except for certain winding machines the property of the Universal Winding Company; and also all such goods, supplies and material as from time to time may have been purchased in place of goods, material and supplies previously sold; and as well all other property, both real and personal of the said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company appurtenant to or in any manner connected with its said manufacturing plant.

And under and by virtue of the powers delegated in the deed above mentioned, said Union Savings Bank and Trust Company, Trustee, as aforesaid, will make titles to the purchaser or purchasers of said property above described.
